United Stand By Property Owners In Expropriation

Those Affected By City's Ruling For Street Extensions to Confer on Terms

First reaction of property owners to the Council's move to secure land for new streets was contained in a letter from William A. Warren which was discussed at the Monday night Council meeting. Mr. Warren, one of the owners concerned with the extension of 14th Street from North to Pine by widening the 30-foot lane to a 60-foot street, suggested that other taxpayers affected meet to discuss settlement with the city.

B.C.F.G.A. Against Non-Delivery

Favors Negotiation and Consultation to Adjust Agriculture's Income

The B.C.F.G.A. are not associated with, nor do they endorse the non-delivery strike of prairie farmers, C. A. Hayden, secretary of the B.C.F.G.A., intimated on Wednesday.

Mr. Hayden had written to the directors of his organization relative to the strike but had not received all replies up to yesterday. However, he said that he believed the association took the view of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture which prefers negotiation and consultation with government authorities.

The Federation had twice requested the Dominion Government to name a commission to study the relationship of farm income to the national average. No such commission had been named but assurance had been given that preliminary research work has been under way for some months. In view of this and the fact that the policy of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture was opposed to strikes, it did not support the prairie farmers. The B.C.F.G.A., according to Mr. Hayden's information, adopted the same attitude.

Although Mr. Warren's suggestion was that the property owners discuss it among themselves, the majority of the aldermen favored the Council meeting with them. David Howie thought it would be better for the Town Planning Commission to explain the move to these ratepayers.

"We are not in a position to argue pros and cons as well as the Town Planning Commission," he said.

Alderman W. Bennett pointed out that the Council had approved the Commission's recommendations in this regard and must now carry out negotiations.

"We can't take any more than ten feet off the corner lot," said Alderman Fred Harwood. "This would only allow a 40-foot street."

"That is just one of the mistakes we made some time ago," he continued. "We should have held up some of these deeds when the land was being subdivided. They want money for the land now."

"And we are going to have to pay them," said Alderman Bennett.

Alderman Cecil Johnston recalled opposing the granting of permission to Mr. Hanna, one of the property owners, to close the street two years ago, but the Council had agreed to this.

Property owners will meet the Council September 30.

Agriculture Students at Fair

H. J. Thornton, instructor of the agriculture class in Vernon High School, took a bus-load of agricultural students to the Interior Provincial Exhibition at Armstrong Wednesday morning, where they were given an opportunity of watching the judges and noting the various prize-winning selections for prize winners. Students also listened to several lectures by experts. They returned before noon.

After Head-On Crash of Iron Horses

First car of fruit train was driven half-way under the tender, caught fire from burning oil. Flying timbers showered Archie McDowell, engineer, who broke his back when he jumped from the locomotive. Rest of train was hauled back to Sweetsbridge siding.

Wreckage of Locomotives

Engine in foreground was thrust up on water tender by force of crash and rolled back 20 yards on track by greater momentum of fruit train. Smoke in background is from first car of fruit still burning eight hours after collision.

Walter Clow, engineer, received minor bruises when he leaped, and Cecil Merrick wrenched his ankle. Engineer of the fruit train, Archie McDowell, broke his back when he hit the ground, and Wes Gibbons, fireman, suffered a broken collar bone.

53-Year Old Bylaw Given Modern Touch

Early this month, J. W. Wright, city clerk, walked back into the vault at the City Hall and dug out a dusty volume from the civic archives. It contained the first bylaws of the city following its incorporation in 1892. He thumbed through the yellow pages to Bylaw 10, passed in April, 1893, with respect to sanitation. The Council of 1946 wished to amend Section 18, dealing with garbage collection.

By last Monday night, C. W. Morrow, city solicitor, had shared the whippersnapper's face lifting for favorable scrutiny by the Council. Dressed up with the amendments of a brand new bylaw, number 932, the 53-year-old clause will meet the modern needs of city sanitation.

Fifty-three years ago, citizens were responsible for disposal of their own garbage. They had to provide "a suitable box, vessel or place" for all "offal, garbage and kitchen refuse" and "shall also cause the contents of such box, vessel or place to be taken twice in each week" during the summer months and "once in each week" during the winter months "to some place directed by the Health Inspector." The bylaw was signed by R. J. Dyer, city clerk, and W. F. Cameron, Mayor.

The 1946 amendment requires that "all places of business, handling disposal of foodstuffs, wholesale or retail, hotels or restaurants," provide metal containers for wet garbage—vegetable, animal or fish matter and all kitchen waste. It must be fly proof, animal proof and kept in a sanitary condition. The metal containers must not be larger than 2 1/2 cubic feet, so that two men may lift them from dumping. Furthermore, a charge for removal of such garbage is planned by the city.

The penalty for infraction of the new amendment remains the same as in the 1893 bylaw—a maximum of $25 or 30 days.

Trains Collide Head On; Crews Leap Before Crash

Sweetsbridge Siding, Near Falkland, Scene of Close Call for 10 Men Saturday

At three o'clock Saturday morning Archibald McDowell was at the throttle of C.N.R. locomotive 2706 as it chuffed north past Sweetsbridge siding with full tonnage of fruit, about 20 cars. Engineer Walter Clow was whistling for the crossings as 2104 rolled south from Falkland, light loaded with only two tenders and the caboose. Between the trains the single track cut a sharp arc through the farm of Norman Gillis.

Wealthies Roll At Good Clip

Over Quarter Million Boxes Shipped; 50,000 More Than Last Year

Shipments of Wealthies apples to the fresh fruit market so far this season now total over 50,000 boxes more than the comparable date in 1945. Figures released by B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. Wednesday showed that 228,000 boxes have been moved so far and 174,000 a year ago. In addition some 30 cars of wrapped Wealthies and from 60 to 70 bulk have gone to United States fresh and processed outlets.

Shipments for the year now amount to 5,145 cars, including 700 moved last week. These totals compare with 4,060 cars in 1945 and 4,401 in 1944.

Mac Crop Not Moving Yet President A. K. Loyd said on Wednesday that McIntosh, although not yet started to move from the Valley except for some classed as hauled grade which had to be disposed of. In sections of the Vernon district and adjacent northern areas, the crop is exceeding estimates, but in the south is spotty in some areas and therefore the total output is not expected to be much larger than forecast.

The 1946 peach crop is about over, and has created a new record for fresh fruit shipments, slightly exceeding last year's total output. So far, 1,108,000 packages have been sold as compared with 1,015,000 in 1945. The equivalent Wealthies Roll

School District 22 Sends Two Delegates To Trustees' Meet

The B.C. School Trustees' Association which convenes next Monday at Prince George, has become part of the war and wool of Joe Harwood's life. In 41 years he has only missed one convention. This year will be the 47th annual meeting of the Association. H. J. McIntosh of Kelowna is the delegate from Vernon School District No. 22. They plan to leave tomorrow, Friday, by car for the northern city.

Mr. Harwood will be one of the guest speakers at the sessions. In an interview this week he stated that "Vernon should be proud of its 4,000 children now at school. The future of the community rests on sound minds and healthy bodies in our young people," he declared.

Having slowed for the siding, engineer McDowell was opening the throttle as he went into the curve. A white beam swung across the track and fell in his face. Behind the source of that light engineer Clow was suddenly blinded by powerful rays from the other locomotive. Each pulled the emergency lever. Steel wheels screeched on steel rails. Crews sprang to the alert, scrambled to exits of cab and caboose and jumped into the darkness. The trains lurched on.

Norman Gillis, sleeping fitfully on the porch of his farm home two hundred yards away, awoke to the sound of "steel going to pieces."

"I knew right away what had happened. I was down to the right-of-way in two minutes. I stayed well back for fear the boilers would explode. Suddenly flames shot high in the air as oil from the tenders caught on fire."

Men began picking themselves up from among the rocks and weeds. Archie McDowell did not get up. His back was broken. Wesley Gibbons, fireman on the northbound train, had scrambled to the fence after his leap, despite a broken collarbone. Blood was streaming down Frank Gagne's face from cuts on his forehead. Mr. Gagne was conductor of southbound 2104. Ernie Lifford, brakeman, and Cecil Merrick, fireman of the same train, limped along the wreckage on sprained ankles. Walter Clow, engineer, and Doug Rickson, brakeman, had escaped with souls and bruises.

Others injured Among the others on the northbound train, brakeman Don McKenzie had twisted his shoulder when thrown against the wall of the caboose as the emergency brakes set. C. J. Robaglia, brakeman, had been thrown from the middle of the caboose against the door, sustaining a wrenched back and sprained left arm. M. McKenzie, conductor, was pulling the air brake in the caboose as the crash occurred and crashed against the cupola, bruising his back and leg. All the men live in Kamloops.

The seriously injured were made as comfortable as possible. The telephone wires beside the tracks were tapped with the equipment carried in the caboose and word was flashed to Kamloops and Vernon.

Fruit train 2706 was the second of three scheduled that night. The third was stopped at Sweetsbridge and its engine towed all but one of the cars of the wrecked train back to the siding, then took Archie McDowell and Wes Gibbons back to Vernon where they were attended by "Dr. H. Campbell Brown in the Jubilee Hospital. The other men attended to their cuts and sprains in the caboose of the southbound freight.

20 Yards Apart As daylight crept along Salmon River valley it was possible to see just what had occurred when the monsters had crashed. They lay upright on the tracks about 20 yards apart, the light train having

Army Huts May Alleviate Winter Housing Shortage

City Council Hopes to Secure Several Units For Emergency During Bad Weather

The Vernon Council has moved to secure some of the huts at the military camp for emergency shelter, according to an announcement by Mayor David Howie at the Monday evening Council meeting. On Saturday Mayor Howie was in telephone conversation with J. G. Walker, Vancouver, branch manager of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. Mr. Walker is arranging emergency shelter in B.C. in co-operation with civic bodies in areas where military camps have been located. He said that he would endeavor to obtain hutments and drill halls at the Vernon site for use until spring.

In this way it is hoped to secure housing accommodation for "several families" which Mayor Howie said required living quarters. Some who had planned on building will not be able to finish their homes until next spring because of the shortage of nails, cement and other materials. People who have been living in summer homes at Kalamalka and Okanagan Lakes must soon find accommodation in the city.

There was no indication made at the Council meeting as to what alterations might be necessary to convert the huts into suitable family quarters, nor as to how the buildings would be allotted or what charges would be made.

Mayor Howie said that War Assets Corporation would be taking up the matter of disposal of the buildings with Ottawa, but some would no doubt be available to ease the housing shortage during the winter.

One of the drill halls may be used for cold storage.

Thermometer Hints Of Things to Come

Currently the weather seems to be at its Okanagan best. While citizens are sleeping beneath the extra blanket, the temperature is dropping, indicative of things to come. The thermometer registered five degrees above freezing on the night of September 17-18, according to meteorologist Franklin Smith. Many people on lower levels report white frost.

Hospital Equipment Probed

Board to List Needs From Military Hospital Supplies, Now Surplus

Whether or not to make a bid for part of the equipment in the Vernon Military Hospital to War Assets Corporation was thoroughly debated by the Hospital Board at its regular meeting Tuesday night, K. W. Kinnard presiding.

The matter was crystallized when Maureen Miss E. S. McVicar was asked to give her opinion as to the condition and value of the articles, which had been examined that afternoon by a committee, comprised of Miss McVicar, K. W. Kinnard, Bryson M. Whyte, Mrs. F. G. deWolf and Dr. H. J. Alexander.

All Not Suitable

Miss McVicar stated that the beds and tables were of inferior quality and she did not recommend them for use in the new hospital; blankets, sheets, and other linen, with pillows, were good, some being new; some instruments would not be used normally in the Jubilee Hospital over a period of years; some equipment for sale of the hospital already has, and the operating room furniture is not required. The kitchen stove would not be considered, she declared, and the laboratory equipment is practically a duplicate of that now used by the Hospital.

The question of whether Pentecost wished to "come in" on the proposition was discussed. The meeting went on record as referring the matter back to the original committee to review articles, decide what items are required by the Hospital, and make a bid for them.

The Bylaw for the city's share of the cost of the new hospital is being held up owing to minor technical inquiries from the Deputy Minister Hospital

Further Labor Troubles Possibility in Okanagan

Agitation Noted in Some Packinghouses; Hint That IWA May Strike Again at Coast

The possibility of further labor difficulties in the Okanagan is seen through the presence in the valley of the District Organizer of the United Packinghouse Workers of America, from whose jurisdiction valley fruit and vegetable workers recently broke away.

William Symington, of Vancouver, U.P.W.A. chief in this province, is now in Kelowna, and according to reports is active in trying to rouse both the International Woodworkers of America and former members of his union who are sympathetic to him.

The Fruit and Vegetable Workers are now an autonomous body affiliated with the C.O.I. but not under the U.P.W.A. A complete severance of relationship was made some weeks ago. Then the independent union concluded an agreement with the Federated Shippers Association whereby the Rand formula was adopted for union security, as well as other provisions. Under the Rand award, originally made in the Ford strike, all workers in the organization must pay dues, which are deducted in compulsory check-off, but union membership is not obligatory.

The I.W.A. is said to be concerned in this situation because as an international group it is opposed to purely local unions. The U.P.W.A., on its part, has lost the affiliation of some 2,000 workers in the Okanagan Valley.

Agitation is being noted in several certified houses where the fruit and vegetable workers have signed agreements. In at least two instances petitions are being circulated protesting the compulsory deduction of union dues. Were the check-off revoked, a claim could be made of broken contract.

The U.P.W.A. is claiming that the agreement between packing house, management and the fruit and vegetable workers is illegal.

Finest in the Land On Display at Armstrong

Forty-Sixth Annual Exhibition Draws Record Number of Entries in All Classes

The finest in the land was on exhibition at the Armstrong Fair Wednesday and today, Thursday: from hem-stitching to horses; from beans to bulls—all the products of farm and home are being displayed in competition for ribbons of many hues. Two days would be short enough time in which to sample just the cakes, cookies and pastry, let alone properly admire dahlias, Herefords, honey, knitting, potatoes, swine, roses, jelly, crows, calves, heifers, steers, bulls, light horses, heavy horses, dark horses, Percheron, Belgian and Clyde. But all were duly entered, classified, exhibited, judged and the best of the finest selected.

Ration Books Stolen From Local Office

Typewriter Among Loot, In Saturday Afternoon's 10-Minute Burglary

While Capt. H. P. Coombes was absent from the Ration Office for ten minutes Saturday afternoon, 75 new ration books, a portable typewriter and a jack-knife were stolen. At midnight Provincial Police arrested Donald Abraham in connection with the case and he was being held on Monday on charge of retaining stolen property.

Capt. Coombes left the office at 7:30 Saturday afternoon, looking at the door and leaving a note that he would be back in an hour. He returned in 10 minutes to find the typewriter gone from his desk and the ration books stolen from the top drawer of the filing cabinet. The thief had apparently entered through the back door which had not been locked.

Police found the typewriter caddy nearby, and according to Cpl. J. A. Knox, "I don't know where the ration books might be, went there and found some of them." Mr. Douglas lives in a small house at the rear of Mrs. McKernan's residence, 370 Lake Drive. She surrendered to police five ration books which Mr. Douglas had given her. A total of 28 were found caddy about his quarters.

The books are of a special series for issue to those who have not previously acquired rations, for example, new-born babies and returned soldiers.

On the black market they would bring about one dollar in Vancouver or two dollars in Kelowna. Cpl. Coombes said the police did not know what value might be placed on them in Vernon.

Some citizens, when getting their ration books at the Scott Hall, were surprised to find no policeman guarding that distribution centre.

Irrigation Week Longer This Year Than Usual

Water supplies of the Vernon Irrigation District were discontinued this year on September 7, one week later than usual. Figures for the amount of water supplied during the season were not available this week, but G. O. Tassio, V.I.D. secretary-manager, thought it would equal last year's record of 11,775 acre feet.

Amateur statisticians may calculate strange facts from the 11,775 acre feet of water supplied. It equals 6,120,100,000 gallons or would make a column more than two miles high if placed on one acre. It is enough to float several battleships and is slightly more than the amount of beer and hard liquor drunk by Americans last year.

Services were prolonged this year because a surplus of storage water was available. Heavy winter snows, a long run-off and a wet spring filled the reservoirs and delayed the need for irrigation water in the orchards. This was fortunate in view of the fact that the flow was delayed due to the V.I.D.'s difficulty in getting equipment ready. Two weeks of dry weather before ditches were filled on May 14 made it a nip and tuck operation.

Increase In Price Of Boxes Granted By W.P.T.B.

16 2/3 Percent Raise For Interior, B. C. Box Manufacturers; In Zone 5

A 16 2/3 percent increase in the price of boxes has been granted the Interior B.C. Box Manufacturers in Zone 5 and is retroactive to last July. Mr. G. C. Strother, chairman of the manufacturers' group, told The Vernon News this week.

Word of the increased prices was received from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board following completion of an audit of the manufacturers' books and a report to Ottawa.

"This increase is not quite what we hoped to get but is acceptable for this year," Mr. Strother declared. "Production of boxes is proceeding apace." The increased values were granted by the Board to offset higher labor and material costs. The fruit industry previously had agreed to absorb any increase, and also to absorb costs of bringing in additional boxes from the States. The 16 2/3 percent increase is a little less than four cents per box additional.

Rush on Licenses as Hunting Season Opens

Sportsmen Take to the Hills for Deer and Grouse

The usual Sunday hush over hill and dale echoed to gun and rifle last weekend as eager sportsmen opened the deer and blue grouse season with a bang. A few hunters returned with their daily quota of six grouse, but as Game Warden J. P. O. Atwood put it, "everything was in favor of the deer." He knew of only three or four being brought down. When leaves fall and the underbrush becomes dry more will find their way into the sights of sportsmen's rifles.

One More Week Of Bowling Here

Like all good things, the season is drawing to an end for the Vernon Lawn Bowling Club. During one of the best seasons of its long history, the club participated in all Interior and Pacific tournaments, with a considerable degree of success.

Draw competitions next Thursday afternoon and the final "Hat Night" will conclude the season. All former members and visiting bowlers are welcomed to these matches. During the week, semi-finals and finals in club rinks, doubles, singles and novice single classes will be concluded.

Catering on all regular "Hat Night" has provoked much praise and congratulations to the ladies of the club who served refreshments on these occasions throughout the season.

V.A.H.A. Plans Coach for Bantams and Intermediates

If the right man can be found, Vernon hockey players are going to benefit by first class coaching during the coming season. That was one of the major decisions of the Vernon Amateur Hockey Association executive at a meeting last Friday evening.

A letter has been sent to Dr. W. G. Hardy, chairman of the Western Intermediate Division of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, asking him to assist the Vernon club in finding a qualified coach. The hockey mentor will be employed full time for five months, if the plan materializes, and he will coach players from bantam to intermediate.

The executive also decided that under no circumstances will Vernon import players during the coming season nor will the club include any "shamateurs," the kind who wear uniform and skates if it is made worth their while with a little pocketbook oil.

Revival of the Okanagan Hockey League is also on the books this season. Kelowna is known definitely to be making its plans now and the Vernon Association is contacting Lumb, Armstrong, Enderby and Salmon Arm to see what the prospects are in those quarters. It is hoped that leagues can be organized in both minor and intermediate divisions.

Various organizations in the city who have shown active interest in hockey in the past are being contacted this week to determine whether they will sponsor minor league teams this year. It is the intention of the V.A.H.A. to see that every youngster in the city gets a chance to benefit by the coaching which should be available. In some previous seasons Vernon has tried its luck with hockey imports. On the whole the experiments were not too successful and in future it looks as though the local product is going to get the breaks.

London recently counted 21 operating taxi drivers over 80 years old.

Larry Kwong, "China Clipper," who started for Trail Sunday last season and Allan Cup semi-finalist, arrived recently in Winnipeg to attend the New York Rangers hockey school. Predatory Bird Drive Ends Sept. 30

Although the predatory bird campaign, sponsored by the Vernon Fish, Game and Forest Protective Association ends on September 30, there is still plenty of time for shooters to go out, thereby becoming eligible for the bonus and prize drawing.

The campaign started last spring, and since then 489 magpies, 137 crows and 34 ravens have been shot, or a total of 660.

On the "point" system used, this represents 4,935 points, each bird's value placed at a given number. Heads of the predatory birds can be handed in to Felix Hechke at the Game and Forest Protective Association, who will pay out the bounty of 10 cents a bird. When a shooter has 50 points he is eligible for the draw. Five hundred points is the maximum, with 10 chances for prizes. Quite a few people have been killing, but not turning in the heads, state Fish and Game officials here, who emphasize that bounties will continue to be paid after the competition ends on September 30.

A smoker will be held in the near future, when prizes will be drawn.

This campaign has been made possible through donations of various Vernon businessmen, sportsmen and others. Among them are the following: Imperial Oil Ltd.; Shell Oil Agency; British American Oil Co. Ltd.; Bloom and Sigale Ltd.; Capitol Motors; Shillman Garage; Interior Motors Ltd.; McLennan, McFeely and Prior Veterinary Ltd.; W. D. MacKenzie & Son; Okanagan Grocery Ltd.; Nolan Drug & Book Co. Local Ball Team Plays Exhibition Weekend Game

When the Kamloops men's fast-ball team, scheduled to play in Vernon on Sunday failed to show up, six players from the Kelowna Club 13 team offered to make up a nine with a few Vernon players and play an exhibition match against the regular Vernon nine.

However, try as they would, the Kelowna men were no match for the smooth Vernon aggregation and Reeves pitching for the Orchard City squad, usually a hard man for the Vernon batters to hit, had a bad day and had to be relieved in the sixth inning.

Vernon opened the scoring in the second frame when Shaw and McLean crossed home plate on two safe hits a two passed balls by the Kelowna catcher. Kelowna scored their lone counter in the third and the home nine retaliated with two more counters in the fourth.

The local nine had their big inning in the fifth when they batted in six unanswered tallies and forced Reeves from the mound. The score at the end of the fifth stood at 10-1 for the locals and it ended that way.

The Kelowna relief chucker held the Vernon batters to four scattered hits in the final four innings. Shaw allowed five hits but his infield backed him well and none of the runners reached third.

A full Kelowna Club 13 team have arranged to play here on Sunday.

Former Vernon Man Faces Manslaughter Count in Vancouver

A charge of manslaughter has been laid against Kenneth Macaskill, formerly of Vernon, as a result of the death of a young woman in a car accident in Vancouver. Kenneth Macaskill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Macaskill who moved to the Coast early this summer after many years in Vernon. Mr. Macaskill, Sr., was a bookkeeper for the Vernon Fruit Union and a son of the late J. Macaskill, who worked in the Maple Leaf Grocery for several years. Kenneth had lived in Vancouver for some time but came to Vernon frequently while travelling as an accountant.

Reports of the accident state that Mr. Macaskill was driver of one of two cars in the fatal collision and Miss Ruth Letta, the victim, was said to have been a passenger in his car. Both drivers have been charged with manslaughter.

Riding Club to Compete at Fair

Many members of the Vernon and District Riding Club are participating in show classes and riding events at the Interior Exhibition in Armstrong this week. They will compete against entries for Grand and Reserve Championships in light horse classes from Vancouver, as well as many Valley points. With the experience of the Penticton and Vernon Gymkhanas in mind, the local horsemen and women hope to bring back a fair share of the prizes. Several of the sportsmen left Vernon on Tuesday and if all eight members of the group which executes the square dance on horseback arrive by Wednesday, this spectacular show will be performed both days of the exhibition.

Among local members of the Vernon and District Riding Club known to be attending the Armstrong events are: Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Rendell, O. S. Latimer, L. P. and Joyce Lalonde, Bob Middleton, A. F. Wilbee, M. H. Symonds, Mrs. Elsie Shaw, Miss Phyllis French and Hugo Schults.

Ten cases of rare Chinese books, some dating to the Sung dynasty, have been recovered from the Japanese, allied headquarters announced. Property of the National Central Library of Nanking, the books will be transported by plane to China.

Labor Troubles

out on strike again at the Coast is considered likely in view of the dispute now current between operators and men. Under the settlement reached last July the work week was split into two periods, summer and winter. In the former the regular shift would be 44 hours and in the winter 40 hours. With the approach of the 40-hour period, the I.W.A. is said to be demanding "take home" pay equivalent to that of the longer work period.

Whether the Coast dispute would affect Interior I.W.A. members is unknown.

Hospital

of Municipal Affairs, said C. W. Gaunt-Stevenson.

F. F. Becker, chairman of the site committee, submitted a drawing made by F. G. deWolf of the proposed site, which provoked a long discussion. The building will be erected in front, and extending north of the present hospital, starting from the canopy at entrance. Frank Valair insisted it should be "square with Seventh Street." Dr. Alexander said the plan was substantially in accord with the position agreed upon officially, with which most of the Board were satisfied.

Repairs to laundry boiler, and covering hot water tanks with asbestos was authorized.

A drive to increase Hospital Insurance policy holders will be launched, reported J. G. Strother, who submitted a report from the Insurance Committee. He recommended that the rates remain as at present, but that the membership should be raised. Increase in salaries necessitates increased revenue, he declared.

Rates for private wards may be increased, and maternity rates revised, the latter $3 for mother and $1 for baby; private maternity cases revised to $8 for mother and $1 for baby.

Frank Valair stuck to his opinion, expressed before, that Hospital Insurance should be readjusted so that policy holders are entitled to benefits when absent from Vernon. This did not receive favorable support from other Board members.

Volunteer Firemen Hold Yearly Competitions Here

"Captain" C. W. Wakefield's team won the McCulloch Cup on Friday in the annual competition of volunteer firemen's companies. To keep themselves in fine fighting fettle, the volunteers practice year-round at laying hoses and climbing ladders. In the contest, the six-man teams are timed while racing across the road to a hydrant, laying 100 feet of two and a half inch hose, adding two 100-foot lines of one and a half inch hose, raising a 20-foot ladder and carrying one of the one and a half inch lines to the top.

Proving that it is not quite as complicated as it sounds, or that practice makes perfect, Captain Wakefield's No. 2 Company did it in one minute and seven seconds. Number 1 Company under Captain J. G. Wakefield was next with one minute and 20 seconds, and Captain B. McConnell's boys trailed with one and 25. In addition to holding the McCulloch Cup for a year, the winners are guests at a banquet supplied by the losing teams.

Infant Dies at Birth
Baby Beck lived only 10 hours after birth on September 9 in the Jubilee Hospital. He was buried in the Vernon Cemetery last Saturday, September 12. The infant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Beck, 640 Maple Street, have another son of 14 months.

Good Representation from City to Meet Chief Scout

LETTERS

Pleas for Barnard Ave. Trees
Editor, The Vernon News, sir:
I am completely dumfounded that any one in his right mind should contemplate the removal of those delightful trees in Barnard Avenue. A sabotage of this kind would deprive Vernon of its chief asset and place the city on a par with the ugliness and monotony of the average Western town.

To compare a store window full of pork and sausages, or bottles of sauce and macaroni, or brassieres, and such, to a tree is akin to sacrilege.

As an artist, I weep to think that dollars and cents could blind our sense of beauty and the moral effect it has on a community.

Apart from this however, I should hate to have to shop in arid Barnard Avenue in a mid-summer's day without the grateful shade which God in His goodness has provided material, ungrateful, and unimaginative man.

I can only fervently hope that in fifty years, when our faithful trees on Barnard have reached their glorious span, the civic authorities will have the grace to replace them for the benefit and delight of future generations.

M. GODFREY.

Rainford Ranch, Oyma;
September 17, 1946.

Police Corporal Addresses Lions Club Meeting

Monday night's supper meeting of the Lions Club was high-lighted by an impromptu address by Corporal J. A. Knox, of the B.C. Police recently appointed to this district. After touching briefly on the "mercenary habits of the local Tail-Twister," Cpl. Knox gave his impression of Vernon.

Having spent 15 years in the police force in all parts of B.C., he is in a position to appraise a city, and finds Vernon much to his liking.

At the moment a minor crime wave is keeping him occupied, but he stated this is principally due to the influx of transient labor, and does not expect it to last. He finds Vernon free from gambling and other vices which breed crimes.

He remarked on the activity on city streets, and thinks traffic conditions could be improved by prohibiting "angle parking" on down town thoroughfares and the institution of parallel parking which would improve visibility and lessen congestion.

Other business of the evening included presentation of 100 percent attendance pins to 13 members of the club and presentation of a pin to Carl Wylie, the Lions newest "cub."

The committee for care of the blind reported on their recent activities after which Dr. H. Ormsby gave a short talk on care of the blind.

First vice-president Leon Irvine was in the chair in the absence of President Frank Baldock.

At the Lion's Club dance held on September 11, Miss Joan Hartwig, of Mabel Lake, was winner of the door prize, a pair of shoes.

Commencing on September 21, the Club's weekly dances will be held on Saturday.

Clothing Rifled Beside Bed While Occupant Sleeps

About $500 in cash and cheques was taken from Dr. H. L. Courser's clothing which was "lifted" from the chair by his bed on Thursday night and left in the hallway by the bedroom door. In the morning, the bedroom door was about to pay for repairs to his lawn mower at a shop the next morning. No trace of the thief has yet been discovered.

Dr. Courser had inserted several sentries at his office during the evening and these had been paid for in cash and by cheques.

The front door of his home had been left open during the night because workmen had been painting. An opened package of cigarettes in Dr. Courser's coat was also taken.

The Vernon Boy Scouts held their second meeting of the week on Wednesday last, to further discuss the arrangements for meeting the Chief Scout, Lord Rowallan, in Kelowna on Thursday, and to meet Field Commissioner F. J. Bower, September 26.

George Hembling reported that the transportation arrangements were progressing and that a special C.N.R. train will leave Vernon station at 8:15 a.m. on Thursday, leaving Kelowna at 2:30 for home. Times are daylight saving. The general public can take advantage of the special low fares. The Scout Association looks for a good crowd of Vernon people to support the 250 or more Scouts, Cubs, Guides and Brownies from this city and district, who will parade for the Chief Scout on that day.

Field Commissioner Bower has recently been posted to Kelowna and will be in the city for a comparatively short time. Prior to coming to B.C. he was employed on Scout organization work in Alberta and before that he was teaching in the Peace River district, so his work has been for the most part in Alberta, although he is a native son of B.C.

In his talk he stressed the importance of organizing and re-organizing committees to meet existing circumstances. It was his opinion that far too much of the work which should be done by the various committees was falling on the shoulders of the troop and pack leaders, thus making their work too hard and taking the heart out of many of them.

He suggested that a start be made now to get winter training courses organized for Leaders, committee members and patrol leaders and that it would be advisable to co-operate with Kelowna in this matter as there was only one commissioner for the province, on a salary, and his time was very valuable. The course would be of three-day duration so that he would be able to do the two places in the week and on the same travelling time.

Vernon has always shown a keen interest in Scouting and maintains a splendid record for Scouting activities. That interest is evidently increasing, as was evident by the large attendance at both meetings during last week.

During the war period many of the leaders were in the armed forces, resulting in a reduction from three groups of troop and pack each to only two, but it will not be long before the third group is re-organized and possibly a fourth one started. It is possible that further meetings will be held prior to the trip to Kelowna on next Thursday, for the purpose of organizing at least one of these groups and to re-organize the District Council so as to make a more suitable division of the work.

The present suggestion is five sub-committees as follows: 1. Organization, extension, registration and leaders. 2. Finance, badges. 3. Training and advancement. 4. Examiners. 5. Camping, conventions, activities and hygiene. It is also suggested that the Group Committees adopt a similar division.

of another 600,000 boxes have gone to processors.

Figures on movement of other commodities with the corresponding 1945 period are: Prunes, 444,000 ($278,000); Transcendent crabs, 88,000 ($66,000); Bartlett pears, 283,000 ($195,000).

The Alberta farmers' strike has had a definite effect on movement of the crop. The striking producers are staying at home and hence not buying in normal quantities.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Nelson, of Vernon, have received word that their daughter, LAW Shella Nelson, R.O.A.F. (W.D.) expected to sail from the Old Country on the "Aquatania" for Canada last Tuesday, September 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Broomfield of Pioneer, B.C., spent last week in Vernon, guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Nelson. Mr. and Mrs. Broomfield were last here 20 years ago. They remarked on the improvements and expansion of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Pell, residents of Vernon over 20 years ago, returned last Thursday to visit at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Russell Nell. Mr. Pell was formerly a partner of Norman Bell. Mr. and Mrs. Pell have been residing recently at Gibson's Landing.

Mrs. Alex D. Hall, formerly of Vernon, now of Vancouver, was in this city en route home after a month's holiday spent with her brother and sister-in-law in Edmonton. After a vacation here she left for her home at the Coast on Wednesday of last week.

C. B. Smith, Sun Life Assurance Company, Vernon, left on Wednesday of last week for Maurice Bay, Quebec, to attend an annual convention of the Sun Life Company. En route home he will visit his brother, O. H. Smith in Montreal, returning here approximately September 25.

Rev. H. E. D. Ashford, Field Secretary of the M. and M. Committee, United Church of Canada, will be special preacher at the Vernon United Church next Sunday morning. Rev. Ashford was chaplain in the R.C.A.F. during the war. At one time he was minister at Princeton, going from there to India as a missionary. Mr. Ashford spoke in the United Church here last autumn, and brought a vital and interesting message.

Dean Vernon Mackenzie, of the faculty of Journalism, University of Washington, was a visitor to Vernon last Monday. The former editor of Maclean's Magazine renewed friendly ties with G. A. Kay, with whom he had been associated in the editorial department of the Calgary News-Telegram some years ago. Dean Mackenzie and Mrs. Mackenzie were motoring through the Okanagan Valley en route to Salt Lake City where Mrs. Mackenzie will spend several months. The Dean will return to his university duties at Pullman. It is 25 years since Dean Mackenzie, then editor of Maclean's, visited Vernon. For the last five years he was in the R.C.A.F. on loan from the university.

In Vernon on Thursday and Friday of last week was Robert P. S. Twizell, well known Vancouver architect, who conferred with the building committee of the Vernon United Church on plans for proposed new edifice in this city. Mr. Twizell has had extensive experience in church architecture, having designed most of the large Vancouver churches. He was accompanied by Mrs. Twizell and they left Saturday morning to spend a few days in Kelowna.

For destroying "three beautiful and valuable trees, and demolishing premises generally," for "incommoding the owner" and for "general damages for trespass, waste, etc.," the city has been asked for $1,000 by Valentine Kulak, in a letter from his solicitors, H. W. Galbraith, read at Monday night's Council meeting.

Sometime ago, city workmen had entered Mr. Kulak's property east of the airport landing strip and had cut down three poplar shade trees. Verbal negotiations had preceded the act, but the City had no written agreement.

A memorandum to the Council by A. F. Page, building inspector, recounted the negotiations. When land was purchased for the runway from Mr. Kulak, Jr., the city's desire to remove the trees on his father's land was mentioned. He thought permission could be obtained, but said that his father probably would prefer that they only be topped.

After the trees had been cut down a complaint was lodged through Valentine Kulak's solicitor. The city clerk replied that "agreement was intimated" with the Board of Works at the time of final purchase of the air strip from Mr. Kulak, Jr., and that the "city employees would not have entered private property unless given to understand that permission had been granted." The formal charge on "request for $1,000 damages followed this explanation.

Charges Permission Given

It claimed that "no permission or lot or license for the city to enter his property and/or despoil it" had been given by Mr. Kulak, Sr., that he was "amazed" that the city had committed these "monstrous acts, and thus not to much as cleared away the debris, piled the wood or left the property in a tidy, useable condition."

Potato Weighing 3 1/2 Pounds Grown Without Water

Mrs. W. H. McMullen, 210 Swift Street, Vernon, brought into The Vernon News office last Tuesday a potato weighing three and one-half pounds. This was grown in her back yard, from seed she planted on May 15 without fertilizer or any water. She said she just "balled them up." Even at this near-record weight, a piece of the potato had been knocked off with the spade. Mrs. McMullen is not sure what variety it is, but has had several large ones. Mr. McMullen is at the Coast salmon fishing in the Fraser River. His wife kept the giant spud several days, as she is expecting him home for a short visit and wanted her husband to see that she is as good an agriculturist as he is a fisherman. Mr. McMullen will fish commercially at the Coast until January.

Smoker for Hunters First Evening of '46 Pheasant Season

Something new and novel in sportsmen's entertainment is planned to coincide with the opening of the pheasant shooting season on Saturday, October 19.

President F. F. Becker, of the Vernon, Fish, Game and Forest Protective Association, announced on Tuesday that plans are being actively pushed for a "Pheasant Smoker" for association members and visiting sportsmen who will be here that week end.

A swell evening's entertainment is being lined up by S. T. Midham. Featured dishes will be crackers and cheese and hot dogs and a club license is being secured. The smoker will be held in Burns' Hall. Films of local hunting and fishing will be shown.

Admission will be by ticket as accommodation will be limited and only those city and district sportsmen who are members of the association will be admitted. No charge will be made for bona fide visiting sportsmen. In order to ascertain the number to be accommodated, tickets must be obtained well in advance from Secretary C. B. Porter.

On Monday morning, October 21, visitors and their wives will be taken on a tour of Bulmans Ltd., and one of the local packing plants. Later on in the season a game dinner will be staged, Mr. Becker also announced.

Distinguished Visitors on Canadian Tour

One of Canada's most distinguished visitors of the year was His Grace, the Most Rev. and Rt. Hon. Geoffrey Francis Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury, who in Great Britain takes precedence over every one except the Royal Family. His Grace, accompanied by Mrs. Fisher, made his first trip to Canada to attend the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada, at Winnipeg, this month. The Archbishop was keenly interested in his 2,500-mile Canadian National trip from Halifax to Western Canada. An ardent student of maps, he followed each leg of the journey with keen interest. The illustration shows W. S. Thompson, C.B.E., director of public relations, Canadian National Railways, who accompanied His Grace, pointing out the route which will be followed. Beside the Archbishop is Mrs. Fisher, and at the right is Rev. Canon J. McLeod Campbell, of London, Eng., domestic chaplain and secretary Missionary Council of Great Britain. From Winnipeg the Archbishop of Canterbury proceeded into the United States, en route to New York, where he sails on the Queen Mary.

Enderby P.T.A. to Aid Pro Rec in Winter Work

ENDERBY, Sept. 18.—After two months vacation, there was a turnout of 27 members and visitors at the Enderby and District Parent Teachers' Association meeting. This group, which began on a small scale, now has a membership of 50 and is carrying out its program with keen enthusiasm under President Mrs. D. Jones.

Mrs. T. Malpass reported that the number of children in the district is increasing and an even higher membership is anticipated before winter. It is hoped the P.T.A. will be able to assist the Pro-Rec which will be starting shortly, and which has been operating under difficulties during the past few years. An appeal has been made to the city for financial aid.

Mrs. E. Webb was elected social convener. Arrangements are being made for a social event in October. Suitable entertainment will be provided at Halloween for local children, with Mrs. Walter Woods and Mrs. C. Liddstone in charge. Representatives from the Pro-Rec at the Civic Centre meeting to be held shortly will be Carlson and Mrs. A. Green.

After general business, Mrs. Woods read a paper on Poliomyelitis, issued by the Ontario Health Department. Later Rev. G. MacKenzie gave an address on "The Enrichment of Life Through Family Living," when he stressed the advantages of happy home life, and pleasant surroundings for the child. The foundation of the coming generation is laid around the family centre, and characters are formed in childhood. The speaker closed his address with a poem dedicated to today's youth, composed by himself.

One of the subjects being discussed locally with some heat is the matter of moving Enderby High School to Armstrong. During the past week a delegation of S. H. Speers, R. Blackburn, W. Pantton and J. A. Tucker, waited on the Board of School District No. 21 at Armstrong. A brief resume is carried elsewhere in this issue.

The delegation returned reporting plans are already being made to consolidate the High School for the district, with its location at Armstrong. This is at matter of concern to Enderby parents. It would mean that all students from Enderby and district would have to travel by bus, necessitating leaving home quite early, which would not be satisfactory in winter.

The matter of living accommodation at Armstrong for some scholars during the winter has been discussed, but this will not be possible for all parents. The matter of the increase in taxes is being discussed. Public opinion is in favor of retaining the High School at Enderby.

"Army" Does Many Deeds Of Charity

To continue and to expand its charitable work which is presently incurring an annual deficit of one million dollars, The Salvation Army launched a "Home Front Reconstruction Appeal" on Monday. The objective for Canada is $2,000,000. Residents of Vernon and district are being asked to contribute $3,555 as their measure of support of the Salvation Army's services. The Red Shield Huts were familiar to servicemen during the war, but the quiet, charitable assistance to unfortunate people in every day life continued also. Although the past year has been relatively prosperous, the local corps of "the Army" had many calls. Ten transients were given work; 24 received free sleeping accommodation and 137 free meals were provided. Travelling assistance was given to six people; five local families were supplied with provisions, and approximately 500 articles of clothing were donated to those in need. In addition to all these incidental acts of benevolence, the corps distributed the annual hampers at Christmas time.

The Salvation Army has been serving Vernon in this manner for 40 years. In addition, it has ministered to the spiritual needs of the people. Many local men and women have entered the "Army". Training College to become officers and servants of the public.

Across the Dominion are eight Eventide Homes for aged men and five Sunset Lodges for elderly women, but there are continually more calls for accommodation in these homes than can be granted.

T. S. Martyn is manager of the local campaign drive. Norman Bartlett, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, is treasurer. A house-to-house canvass is being assisted by the following organizations and their representatives: Junior Women's Hospital Auxiliary, Mrs. L. A. Pope, president; Women's Canadian Club, Mrs. W. R. Pepper, Scottish Daughters, Mrs. J. Louder; Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion; Business and Professional Women's Club, Mrs. F. H. Harris; Rebecca Lodge, Mrs. S. F. Bettschen; Pythian Sisters, Mrs. E. T. Buffum; Women's Institute, Mrs. E. D. Burke and Miss Staggies, Miss R. Foster; W.C.T.U., Mrs. Jones.

If any person is not called upon at his home, donations may be made to Mr. Bartlett at the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Armstrong COMINGS & GOINGS

ARMSTRONG, Sept. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. John Day of Embro, Ontario, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clemen and Shirley en route from Morningside, Alberta, to Chilliwack, spent the week end with their cousin, Mrs. E. Procter.

Mrs. M. Miller left on Sunday to make her home in Salmon Arm.

Mrs. Brumman of Vancouver, is a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. Walter Dockstead.

Mrs. V. T. N. Pellett returned home Monday from Kamloops, where she visited her daughter who is a patient in the Royal Inland Hospital in that city.

Miss Beatrice Gill left last Wednesday to take an Army Vocational Course at the Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pringle spent the week end in Vancouver, returning to this city Monday morning. After spending a few days settling business affairs here, Mr. and Mrs. Pringle will leave by car for Owen Sound, Ontario.

Mrs. Henry De Fehr and daughter returned to Calgary Monday night after visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Goertzen.

New All-Canadian Steamship for Pacific Coast

Above is the naval architect's drawing of the 5,000-ton steamship which will be built for the Pacific Coast Steamships by the Burrard Dry Dock Co. Ltd. of Vancouver, at its Yarrow plant, Victoria. The ship, the largest passenger vessel ever to be built on the Pacific Coast, will cost about $3,000,000 and should enter service in 1948. Plans of McLaren and Son, consulting engineers and naval architects, call for a vessel with an over-all length of 350 feet, a breadth of 52 feet, a displacement tonnage of 5,000 tons and a speed of 18 knots. The ship will have accommodation for 322 passengers, all in outside cabins, and 50,000 cubic feet of cargo space, of which 5,000 will be refrigerated.

Up More Than 1,000 Since Depression—

Population of Enderby Grows by Leaps and Bounds

ENDERBY, Sept. 18.—Enderby was due for a surprise on Saturday when it was discovered that the population of the town and neighboring district had increased to approximately 1,541 from 1,300 when the last Ration Book was issued. On Friday those in charge of distribution of the new book found they would not have sufficient for everyone, and 500 more had to be secured.

This function has made it comparatively easy to keep a check on population increases. During the depression years, the population of Enderby was 500. It has risen steadily since that time.

Practically all the ration books were given out locally, only a few being distributed North Enderby and Mabel Lake, where Russell Large was in charge. In charge of distribution in Enderby were: Chairman, Mrs. F. S. Rouleau; assistants, Mrs. C. F. Bigge, Mrs. Osborne-Smith, Miss Bennett, Mrs. C. Parkinson, Mrs. C. Lidstone, Mrs. Blumauer and Gordon Blumauer, Miss Corine Kope and Miss E. Lidstone. The distribution centre was the City Hall, hours, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Commence Fall Work
The members of the Sir Douglas Haig Chapter I.O.D.E. held their first meeting of the fall season at the home of Miss Kitty Folkard on Tuesday afternoon with Miss Folkard and Miss Agnes Miller hostesses.

According to a report from Mrs. H. Logan, some 870 pounds of woolen clothing had been shipped to headquarters in the National Clothing campaign. Long hours of tying and packing were spent by the two conveners, Mrs. T. Sparrow and Mrs. H. Logan. Various members of the chapter gave of their time during the collection period. H. Logan collected the boxes of clothing and took them to the depot.

September 21 was set as date of the Baby Clinic, Mrs. E. Webb convener. She will be in charge of refreshments for parents bringing pre-school age children for examination. Dr. J. Kope is examiner. A letter was read from Hon. Groote Stirling in answer to an inquiry regarding the Canadian flag.

Mrs. Martin, Provincial Regent, will be in Enderby for an official visit on September 24. Arrangements were made to have the members meet Mrs. Martin on that day at the home of the Regent, Mrs. E. N. Peel.

Saturday, September 28 was set aside as tag day for the blind. Following a request from J. C. Hembling, the City Council gave permission for a committee to be nominated, consisting of Mrs. S. Speers, chairman, assisted by Mrs. W. Panten, Mrs. C. F. Bigge and Mrs. A. Woodley.

Honor Top Ranking Student
Following a report from the Educational Secretary, Mrs. Abernethy, members decided to present a book for the pupil passing university matriculation with the highest marks. It was also decided that $5 be set aside towards the purchase of a screen lantern for the local school.

Mrs. Joe Koss took her affirmation and Mrs. J. S. L. was accepted as a new member of the Chapter. The regent thanked those who took charge of the Flower Shoe Tea, sponsored by the Chapter, at which some $14 was netted. Conveners were Mrs. T. Kneal and Mrs. A. Thomas and Mrs. C. F. Bigge. A special "thank you" went to the five girls who assisted with the serving: Misses Marie Smith, Margaret Kneal, Joyce Smith, Merle Lantz and Clara Daum. After the business session tea was served at the home of Mrs. T. Sparrow, assistant hostess being Mrs. G. McMahon.

The local chapter collected $221 in aid of the Cancer Fund. Convener Mrs. C. F. Bigge received a monthly letter from the Provincial Convener, Mrs. Stand. A social get-together and business meeting of the United Church W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. H. Lantz on Wednesday afternoon. This was the first meeting since the summer holidays and was conducted along the lines of a re-union. President Mrs. McMahon welcomed the group, and Mrs. A. Bush took the devotional period. The new program which had set aside a portion of the meeting as devotional is taken by the various members. The manse committee reported that during the summer considerable renovating had been done to the manse. Several rooms had been re-decorated, the floors and verandas had been painted and repairs made to the roof of the building.

United Church Ladies Project
Mrs. C. Parkinson and W. Panten had been appointed as visiting committee for October. It was arranged that at the next regular meeting a sale of various articles be held. Each member will make one article out of either a fur coat or a hat. The meeting will be held in the basement of the church. Mrs. A. Green assisted Mrs. H. Lantz in serving tea to the members.

Cliff Lidstone has accepted the position as janitor of the Enderby Fortune School following the illness of John Miller.

Gordon Garner returned to Enderby recently after spending a holiday at Vancouver. Mrs. Garner, who accompanied her husband to the Coast, is spending an extended holiday there.

Mrs. Mary Walker is spending a holiday in Enderby with her sister, Miss Sally Walker, who has been vacationing a week or so at Waterville, and prior to that at Roseland. Miss Walker has been spending the summer at the Walker camp at Dolly Varden Beach.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Cowper, of Vancouver, are congratulating them on the birth of a daughter in Vancouver on September 8. Mrs. Cowper is the former Anne King, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. L. King. Following war service as V.A.D. she was married in Enderby.

Rev. and Mrs. J. L. King and the latter's sister, Mrs. Yates who has been visiting here at Waterville, returned to Enderby the first of the week after spending a holiday with Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Glen at Summerland.

Mrs. McCampbell, of Vernon, spent the weekend in Enderby. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rutan completed the packing and moving of their household effects on Saturday from their former home in Enderby to Sicamous where they will make their home. Mrs. Rutan, who will be accompanied by her daughter, "Jackie," will be greatly missed locally. During her years as resident here she has been active in the Enderby General Hospital Auxiliary and United Church circles.

Pentiction Believes In Action on New Sewerage Project

PENTITION, Sept. 16.—Pentiction council is anxious to call for revised tenders on sewerage installation work.

When tenders were recently opened, it was discovered that the costs, as quoted, were about twice what was estimated.

This, it was stated, was due to lower installation than had been in mind when the by-law was passed. Since that time the municipal engineer here has been going over the plans and specifications and he states he is satisfied that the work can be adequately carried out at a considerably higher level. This would greatly reduce cost.

But there has been some difficulty in proceeding. J. T. Underhill, of Vancouver, the consulting engineer retained by the council and who made the final drawing at the lower level, has not been available. He has been in Alaska. Reeve Lyon said that he would find where he could contact Mr. Underhill by wire and would advise him of the council's revised intentions.

The council is also anxious to get the final plans for concrete work in the disposal plant installation, so tenders on that work could also be called.

The production of one pound of silk requires the work of more than 25,000 cocoons and the consumption of about one ton of mulberry leaves.

Kamloops School Board Defines Jurisdiction

KAMLOOPS, Sept. 14.—With overflow classes being held in other than their normal premises, jurisdictional matters were defined by the School Board at their latest meeting. For example, local classes of grades 7 and 8, although they are held outside of the Junior-Senior High School building, will be subject in all matters except discipline to the principal of the High School. Discipline will be in the hands of the principal within whose jurisdiction the class may be meeting.

The matter of transportation of pupils outside of school buses, the arrival of the new school buses delayed, temporary arrangements are being effected. The board regretfully refused permission for any children except those attending public schools to ride on the school buses. Parents with children attending St. Ann's Academy had sought transportation for them on the school buses.

The board advanced its discussion regarding the bylaw which it is proposed to place before the voters in the enlarged school district to provide for new buildings. The board chairman, B. A. Edwards, and Inspector H. McArthur were named to meet the city council in regard to having the title of the site for the proposed High School transferred to the school board.

Staff Shortage at Kamloops Delays New Garbage Plan

KAMLOOPS, Sept. 14.—Inability to secure additional staff has delayed inauguration of the city's two-can system of garbage collection, using two garbage collection trucks.

Not only has it been impossible to secure a crew for the second truck, but the garbage department as at present constituted is understaffed, and according to Alderman W. H. B. Linnell, chairman of the health committee, there was a threat that the present crew could be induced to continue only by an increase in pay.

After debate, council authorized Alderman Linnell to offer the superintendent of the garbage department an increase of $25 a month, from $1,175, and an increase to the men of 10 cents per hour, from 65 to 75 cents.

Alderman Linnell stated that he had made extensive efforts to secure men to effect the city's garbage collection program, but had to report total failure. The situation, he said, was serious. One thing making it difficult was the nature of the work, it being both dirty and heavy.

Efforts to secure an adequate crew are continuing. A second truck is in readiness.

Everyman Theatre Coming to Vernon In Mid-January

Those who attended one or more of Miss Dorothy Somerset's lectures will recall that she mentioned The Everyman Theatre, of which Sydney Risk, formerly of the University of Alberta, is director. Miss Somerset is working closely with the movement.

The announcement that Everyman Theatre is scheduled to visit Vernon on its Western Canadian tour this winter will be of interest. The date set for Vernon is January 14.

The productions of The Theatre will offer: "The Importance of Being Earnest," by Oscar Wilde, representing the classical tradition of English comedy, and "The Last Days of Pompeii," a new three-act Canadian comedy by Elsie Park Gowan of Edmonton, representing the contribution of a distinguished Western Canadian writer to the Canadian tradition.

As explained by Miss Somerset, The Everyman Theatre has been founded with the primary aim of providing Western Canada with its own Canadian professional theatre. Such a theatre is the logical outgrowth of the Canadian amateur theatre movement. A professional group, able to give its full time to the development of the best kind of drama, will set an even higher theatre.

Everyman Theatre directors intend to foster and encourage the writing of plays by Canadians. There are no stars or leading players in the organization.

It is planning to work through a series of local sponsors in each town visited. Sponsors for its appearance here have not been named.

Kelowna Jaycees Want Traffic Lights On Main Artery

KELOWNNA, Sept. 13.—Installation of traffic regulation "stop and go" lights along Bernard Avenue, at Ellis, Pender and Water streets, has been suggested by the Junior Chamber of Commerce as a solution to what they described as the noon-time and 5 p.m. traffic problems at these corners.

A special committee, under the chairmanship of Bob Hayman, was set up at their monthly meeting to investigate the question. The major portion of the meeting was spent discussing the difficulties posed by the city's increased motor traffic, it is reported.

Some members were said to have expressed that these corners are potential serious accident spots, and something should be done to regulate traffic before it was too late.

Showboat Permanent Possession

Vic Gregory, Jaycee vice-president, announced that the former tugboat, "Orchard City," had been donated to the Junior Chamber by S. M. Simpson. The vessel was converted this year into a showboat for use in the Regatta's Lady-of-the-Lake contest and provided a hit with the spectators. It will be used in a similar capacity for all future Regattas, the Jaycees said.

BANK CREDIT BRIDGES THE FINANCIAL GAP

Every day, business firms make use of bank loans to keep men working, machines running, goods flowing. This bank credit may be used to meet continuing expenses while goods are being processed; to build up stocks of raw materials; to purchase component parts. As finished goods reach the market and payment is received, the loan is repaid.

Enterprising farmers, fishermen, merchants—all make similar use of bank credit to meet their short-term financial needs. Thus your bank helps Canadians maintain steady operations—to take advantage of market opportunities both at home and abroad—to grow. And this, in turn means more work, more goods, a higher standard of living for you and for every Canadian.

Okanagan Has Share in B.C. Government's Road Plan

The Okanagan Valley shares in more than 30 major highway projects now under construction in the Province, exclusive of all minor improvements and maintenance of roads, bridges and ferries and protection works. It is announced by Premier John Hart and Hon. E. C. Carson, Minister of Public Works.

Of interest locally is the Vernon-Lumby gravel surfacing; Chase Revision in the Salmon Arm district and Power's Creek-Pesachland-Drought's Hill Road in the South Okanagan district. Projects elsewhere in the Province are now in hand, and all will be completed by November 30 of this year.

Some magnitude of these undertakings may be gathered through statistical information that has been prepared in connection with the various contracts.

Clearings for these projects total 4,28 acres; solid rock excavations total 1,314,162 cubic yards; other materials to be excavated total 9,835,556 cubic yards. Concrete to be poured totals 27,941 cubic yards; timber to be used totals 2,147,102 feet board measure; steel to be used totals 1,903 tons; gravel surfacing totals 1,152,530 cubic yards; and culverts to be built total more than 18 miles.

It is a tribute to the ingenuity and persistence of the Public Works Department officials and staff that so much has been accomplished not only in regard to maintenance work, but also in regard to construction and reconstruction works in the face of very great difficulties with respect to the shortage of labor, shortages of supplies and shortages of equipment. The work has not been impaired to the degree it might have been had officials not built up a reserve of supplies from which to draw.

Hope-Princeton Highway
The Hope-Princeton Highway is the second largest project of the Public Works' undertakings and involves the construction and reconstruction of 81 miles. The work is very heavy indeed, especially the section through the Cascade Range. Section "A" extends from Hope to Skagit River at Mile 28. The contractors on this section have made a very determined effort to complete as much work as possible this year. By November 30 there is every chance that they will have completed 40 percent of the work. Since they have opened up the work in so many places, it is not possible to set out the progress in miles. A well-equipped force is now attacking the very heavy rock section along and approaching the Skagit Bluffs. As winter approaches they will attack unfinished sections nearer to Hope.

Section "B" extends from Skagit River to Princeton, a distance of 53 miles. This is lighter work than Section "A" but is relatively heavy as compared to most highway work. It is quite probable that by November 30, clearing, culverts and grading will be completed from Copper Creek to Princeton, a distance of 30 miles and a good start made on the work west of Copper Creek.

Showman "Wouldn't Trade With Mackenzie King"

Henry Meyerhoff was born "on the road" 22 years ago, and has been travelling it ever since for the past 40 years as owner of Crescent Shows.

"There is only one way to get out of it," he added, when interviewed in his trailer office camped by the games and rides last Friday. Judging from his keen vitality, that "one way" is still a long way off for Mr. Meyerhoff.

"I wouldn't trade places with Mackenzie King," he continued. "The show business is a gypsy life, or a pioneer life. There is a thrill every minute and something unexpected every other minute. You never know where you'll wind up. You are always on the road to the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, but of course you never reach it. That's show business in a nutshell."

Mr. Meyerhoff's parents followed that trail in horse drawn days 60 years ago. Today Crescent Shows travels in 15 railway cars. Four are used for sleeping and living quarters on the road and the rides and booths are packed into the other 11. Only half of the show came to Vernon because of the limitations of accommodation and the relatively small population.

Mr. Meyerhoff has taken shows through every country in Europe, with "side trips" to Central and South America. He estimates his total mileage at about two or three hundred thousand miles. During the war the circuit was confined to Canada, but it still piles up the mileage. After wintering in Penitence, the show went to Victoria and the Island, journeying to Winnipeg via Edmonton, then returned to Vancouver, playing many southern towns. Today, after the war, the main line "The show is making its last run of the season before going into winter quarters again at Penitence."

A showman must always be keen on trends of public taste and attitude, and the most successful showman has been that people are beginning to hold on to their money.

"People feel uncertain, not sure what is going to happen with all the strikes and unrest. Thus, they are not spending money," he explained. "This has been true since we started back from Winnipeg on July 10. It applies not only to the games of chance and skill, but to all kinds of business."

Mr. Meyerhoff is proud of his show. "We are one of the few shows who carry nothing bad or dishonest. It is not the biggest in Canada, but I think it is the best."

The company carries a $100,000 public liability insurance policy, the largest allowed by Lloyds of London on this type of entertainment.

Rattler Bites Miner In South Okanagan

PENITENCE, Sept. 18.—Peter Kazakoff, of the Fairview mine, no longer believes the stories that Okanagan rattlesnakes don't bite. And for a very good reason.

A short time ago, Kazakoff, and other employees of the mine, came upon a rattler. It was a big one, with seven rattles, about four feet in length.

Kazakoff undertook to show how the rattler should be picked up and attempted to grasp it by the back of the head. The rattler was too quick, however, and laid the miner's hand open with one swift strike. Rushed to St. Martin's Hospital, Oliver, Kazakoff was ten days getting over the effects of the bite. He was discharged recently, the doctors assuring him he would suffer no after-effects.

By a strange coincidence, just a year ago this time, his mother also suffered a rattlesnake bite.

The musk ox has the tail of a sheep, kidneys of a goat, spleen of a donkey, bones of an ox, ribs of a bison and hoofs of a caribou.

The bulldozer and pile driver recently at Deep Creek for repairs, have been taken back to Vernon. Kettle River Bridge is being renewed.

Polio Threat Dies Down at Enderby

Kelowna School District No. 23 Has 3200 Pupils

KELOWNA, Sept. 13.—While refusing to give any definite figures upon the school population this year, school officials concede that there has been a large increase in the number of pupils registered and that this number would be increased considerably during the next few days as the stragglers came into the classes.

It is estimated that the school population of the present school district is 3,222. It is known that the schools composing the district had planned to accommodate 3,069 pupils early in August and it is believed that this number has increased by at least five percent in the interval.

In August the 3,069 pupils could be broken down to 429 in the High Schools, 778 in the Junior Highs and 1,862 in the Elementary Schools.

The Kelowna city school now have approximately 1,630 pupils and more are registering daily. When the final tally is made this number will be considerably increased.

The Elementary has roughly 850 while there are 450 in the city Junior High and 350 in the Senior High.

Last year at the same comparative time the city school population was reported at about 1,250.

Late registrations are due to pupils being away with their families in September and students working in the orchards during the harvest season, as well as many other reasons all affecting early registration.

Rock Which Obscured Corner on Creighton Valley Road Removed

CHERRYVILLE, Sept. 18.—A big rock on a sharp turn on Creighton Valley Road has been blasted out of the way. This has been a source of trouble to motorists, truck drivers and the mailman, so its removal is a source of gratification to everyone.

The hunting season has opened, and on Sunday, local as well as visiting hunters went into the hills. Joe Lesausky, with six horses, took six men up to a nearby mountain.

Spallumcheen Brings Municipal Wages Up To Present Standard

ARMSTRONG, Sept. 13.—Labor rates in the Municipality of Spallumcheen came under review at the last Council meeting, and in order to bring these up to standard a general rise all around was authorized. This brings laborers to $5; gradersmen, $5.50; truck drivers, $5.50 and the foreman an increase of $10 per month.

The condition of the Lansdowne corner was brought to the attention of the Council by police. The road at the corner is dangerous in its present condition and the dead-end fence is badly out of repair. This will be referred to the proper authorities.

Councillor William Parker was appointed delegate to the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention at Harrison Hot Springs hotel on September 23-25.

Reeve Noble recommended that the Council purchase for the use of its public works department a medium bulldozer, a power mower and snowplow for the tractor they now have. The acquisition of road machinery was fully discussed but no decision was arrived at.

Smart Girls Always Carry Paradol in their Handbags

They know that Paradol will relieve them quickly of headaches, and other discomforts, as well as help to check colds.

One girl writes, "Until I used Paradol every month I suffered almost unbearable pains. It is the most quickly effective relief I have ever used and there is no disagreeable after effect."

Dr. Chase's PARADOL
For Quick Relief of Pain

During the year ending May 31, 1946, more than 290,000 jobs were found for veterans through the offices of the National Employment Service. This figure includes jobs found for handicapped veterans, of whom more than 3,200 found jobs through the special placement sections of the National Employment Service.

According to officials of the Canadian Wheat Board, movement of wheat through Churchill, Manitoba, will probably exceed 2,000,000 bushels this year.

"...one of the least of these my brethren..."

Reconstructing lives is the Salvation Army's job—and yours

We cannot suffer little ones, denied their birthright by folly or neglect, to face a hopeless future. Canada needs all her citizens. Reclamation of broken lives is a "reconstruction" job. Remember Him who said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

Wherever there is an unfortunate child, an unwed mother, a prisoner anxious to "go straight", a wastrel for whom there is hope, an old man or old woman whose life has cast aside... there YOU can help in building a better Canada.

After war, the need for reconstruction in The Army's work on the Home Front is pressing. Give generously.

The List That Shows Who and Where

If you are an EATON customer there is a stenographer of your name and address at EATON'S Mail Order in Winnipeg. You will find all the names of thousands of others, makes up the mailing list. Space is a problem, but the hard job is keeping this list up to date. It would be easy if people just remained the same; but they grow up, marry, die and move. Thousands of them move to new addresses every month. To keep track of all these changes requires the time of a large staff. YOU can help, too, by notifying us of any change of address. All this work is done so that EATON'S customers receive EATON'S Catalogue regularly.

father was tutor to the Earl of Strathmore's family. On arrival in Canada, Mr. Wilson was appointed to the Ashcroft office of James Murphy, brother of Hon. Mr. Justice Murphy, and continued in this position when R. R. Earle, B.C., took over the practice after Mr. Murphy's death.

Two sons, Donald and Kenneth Wilson, received their education in Ashcroft. Donald is now a C.N.R. locomotive engineer at Kamloops and Kenneth is a Dominion telegraph agent at Bella Coola.

Last Friday Mr. Wilson said he had no special plans for his retirement. He and Mrs. Wilson, who had gone together to the same kindergarten in England, will continue to make their home in Vernon.

His successor has not yet been appointed in the Provincial office.

Mac Picking Starts with Bumper Crop Indicated

McIntosh apples, the red blood corpuscles in the life stream of Okanagan orchard economy, are being picked in this district. The trickle began on Friday; a steady flow was arriving at packing houses early this week and a roaring torrent will soon begin to spread the delicious fruit across the continent and over the oceans.

Until Wednesday, the flow of Macs was being absorbed by packing houses, with none being shipped. E. O. Sherwood, of Unity Fruit Ltd., said that the market was not open for shipment. Wealthies are being cleaned up, and he had no indication or advice of the shipping date for Macs. The Vernon Fruit Union is receiving 10 to 12 thousands boxes per day.

Early receipts indicated a "large" crop of small apples, said Mr. Sherwood. A B.C. Fruit Shippers' spokesman described them as "slightly smaller" due to the heavy crop. First shipments were reported by all packing houses to have been on the green side. Following recent showers and cold nights color quality has been steadily improving.

A. T. Howe said his crop was of good size. They had colored rapidly during the past few days.

Previously, Macs had been ripening without sufficient coloring. Many growers had used stop-drop sprays to save the crop for later picking. Larger orchardists are now spot picking to allow those below color standards to reach higher quality. Those who are cleaning trees may receive considerable Cee grade because of this.

That there is more to late coloring of McIntosh apples than lack of showers and frost is indicated by the fact that much scientific research is being carried on with regard to this difficulty. It is being studied at the Summerland Experimental Farm and at the Massachusetts State College. In that state, 62 percent of the apple crop is of the Mac variety, whereas 36 percent of B.C. production is Macs. Lower color quality has been increasingly evident during the past four or five years, said C. A. Hayden, secretary of the B.C.F.A. Coddling moth damage is very light this year.

"We are better off in this regard than we have been for a long time," said Dolph Browne.

Both packing houses and orchardists could use more help, especially experienced men. Some inexperienced women applicants found no jobs this week because the industry had absorbed quantities of this type of help recently. New pickers seem to be so easily trained that one orchardist. He had only two experienced foremen to direct 40 employees.

Under the present labor situation, spot picking is a difficult and expensive proposition. It requires not only more experienced and careful pickers, but also special wage negotiations. When workers are paid per box they are unwilling to accept the slower process of going back over partially picked trees.

Local packers report a steady flow of fruit to the prairies, despite rumors that the market is glutted because farmers are short of cash during their non-delivery strike. The crabapple market was described as "draggy" but this is believed due to sugar rationing. This view is supported by a steady demand for prunes. These require little sugar for canning, or can be sweetened as used gradually throughout the winter.

Shipment of fruit to Coast canneries is "tied up" said Mr. Sherwood, due either to the labor shortage or insufficient demand because of insufficient sugar quotas. The fruit is being stored locally. Mayor David Howie mentioned at the Monday night Council meeting that a drill hall at the military camp site might be secured for cold storage.

Prisoners-of-war are again being used on a limited scale this year. There are approximately 1,000 on individual farms in Alberta, Manitoba and Ontario, and provision has also been made for 2,500 to help with seasonal jobs in the sugar beet areas in these same provinces.

Armstrong Fair

Those looking for free samples, so sought after by children and not a few adults, the V.E.O. exhibit offered hundreds, but of a disappointing variety unless one were after knowledge. The display offered a three weeks' loan of books and pamphlets on any topic under the sun, or about the sun itself. Titles selected at random covered photography, marriage and family life, glove making, atomic energy and money management.

The boys and girls of the Poisto Club had a 30-foot table all to themselves, with rows of spuds which seemed matched even to the placing of the eyes. Indians under the Okanagan Indian Agency had filled a booth with hundreds of pieces of clever, artistic leather, bead and basket work. The profusion of gladioli, dahlias and roses indicated that more people had more time since the war to devote to artistic gardening.

Horsemen and stock raisers had to be fed as well as their animals, and the Women's Association of the Zion United Church, Armstrong, had undertaken the job in former years. On Tuesday they broke last year's record for the number of meals served. If the trend continued during Wednesday and Thursday, they will have catered to about 1,500 diners this year. Rations for this special service are secured direct from the Ration Board, "and oh, what a lot of red tape," sighed Mrs. A. Marshall, supervisor of the undertaking.

Before the light horse judging had begun Wednesday it was possible to speak to some of the horsemen as they applied black shoe polish to their animals' hooves or braided manes and tails. Major "Paddy" Cameron and Miss Davis, perennial Kelowna entrants in the show, were back again. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Whelan had come up from North Vancouver. Mrs. Whelan was formerly Miss V. Horne, of Armstrong. Alan Hyndman and Mrs. E. Owen, president of the Pentecost Riding Club, represented the south of the valley. Mrs. E. Welch and Eric Hyndman were assisting with the grooming of their entries.

"Loc" Cameron, Vernon, president of the Light Horse Division, was exercising mounts which were to be judged by Robert Thompson of Calgary. Bert Ellison had brought "Gibraltar," last year's grand champion. Stallions were being entered by Lloyd Lalonde, Mr. Latimer and Tom Wilton, three of the many participants from the Vernon and District Riding Club. J. Unsworth Holt, ringmaster for the past four years, expected more entries than ever this year.

Jack Byers, Calgary, was judging in the horse ring on Wednesday morning, with H. D. Child, director of the heavy horse classes, keeping horses and men coming from the stables in a steady stream. George Jackson, of Salmon Arm, was coping most of the Clydesdale ribbons, J. H. McCallum, Armstrong, placing with a yield mare over four years old. Some of the best Percherons belonged to Alex "Bender," Enderby. The number of entries in the heavy horse class continued on the down grade this year. Mr. Child suggested that the cause was the swing to tractor farming and the shortage of help to look after farm animals of any kind.

Oyama Winner
The cattle show attracted by far the greatest number of spectators. The competition "was much tougher this year" according to V. E. Ellison, Oyama. Entries had come from Lytton and Kamloops on the north to Oryma in the south. "All the best Herefords in B.C. seem to be here," he said. He had already won the junior bull calf and the senior Hereford cow firsts. Earlscourt Farms Ltd. had a row of ribbons on the stall of "Atov Lion Heart," Hereford bull purchased in England for $2,500. It had won the grand reserve and the senior reserve championships. A bull calf sired by "Atov Lion Heart" came second in its class. "Court Royal Tone," sired by "Ringwood Leader Tone," placed first in the senior yearling bull class and won the grand championship. This is the first year that Earlscourt, Farms Ltd. have competed in the exhibition.

D. C. Wilson and Sons of Vin-Sulla took the junior championship in the Hereford class with an animal now sold to a Wyoming cattleman for $2,000.

Mrs. Harry Hayes swept the board in the Aberdeen Angus class, having the only entries of the breed.

"Killern Norseman the 22nd," owned by H. O. Catt, Lumby, who specializes in Shorthorns, walked off with the grand championship bull, senior champion and first in his class. Mr. Catt also had ribbons for two firsts and a second for junior bull, first and second in certain age classes and a second for two-year-old heifers.

S. A. Glancy of Hereford Hills Ranch, had fewer entries present than usual because he had great difficulty in securing help to prepare his animals for show. He would not say much about a double "Domino" bull purchased this spring in Yuma, Arizona, but rumor has it that this animal and perhaps some of its progeny will be strong contenders next year.

Other cattle breeders showing animals were: "The Indian Residential School, Kamloops; Armstrong Beef Calf Club and Graeme Ranch, owned by R. V. Hornby, Guernsey man of Armstrong.

Judging was not completed when lists were skimmed for some of the prize winners. Wednesday morning and more complete details of cattle and other types of stock will be carried in next week's issue of The Vernon News.

$15,000,000 Paid In Veteran Credits
Re-establishment credits amounting to almost $15,000,000 have been paid to 42,124 Canadian veterans, according to tabulations made August 31.

The largest amount paid was almost $11,000,000 for construction and purchase of homes for 26,159 veterans. Another $74,400,000 was received, $480,100 to purchase homes under the National Housing Act.

Train Crash

been rolled back after the first impact by the greater momentum of the 40-car freight. The first car containing onions and apples had been smashed apart against the tender in front of it and half its carriage was wedged under the tender. The remains were still burning at noon. The cab of the southbound locomotive had been hoisted back and up onto the water tender. Only the small wheels of the pony car were on the rails. A battered lunch box which someone had pried from the cab lay on the grass as mute witness to what the engineer and fireman had escaped by jumping.

When The Vernon News reporter arrived at the scene about 11 a.m. only a small crowd of section men and a few farmers were watching the smouldering ruins. Frank Gagne was still on the phone, receiving information from Kamloops divisional office regarding the progress of the train bearing wrecking crews and inspectors. Some of the crew were trying to carry on a game of rummy in the caboose, to ease the pain of sprains and bruises and lessen the nervous tension. They refused to give their names or say what had happened until the superintendent arrived.

About 11:30, W. A. Stewart, assistant superintendent of the Kamloops division arrived. He estimated that the passenger from Vancouver would get through to Vernon by 3 or 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Station agents were driven nearly frantic by requests for information of its arrival before it finally came in at 11 p.m.

Visited in the Jubilee Hospital on Monday, Mr. Gibbons had just had his shoulder placed in a cast and was to be taken back to Kamloops later in the day. He is 38 and had joined the C.N.R. in 1927. Mr. McDonnell was still in great pain from a broken vertebra. Fifty-six years of age, he began his service with the railroad 30 years ago.

An official inquiry into the collision will take place at a later date and result will not be known for some time.

Slugged, Robbed, Shoved From Car On Kamloops Road

R. McMillan, recent arrival from the Coast, allegedly struck Andrew Katona over the head with a beer bottle, stole his watch and about ten dollars and dumped the victim onto the highway from his own car about 2 a.m. Saturday morning seven miles out on the Kamloops Road. Mr. McMillan was picked up by Provincial Police at a local rooming house within two hours, and was remanded by Magistrate William Morley at 10 o'clock on a charge of robbery with violence, the first such case in Vernon for four or five years.

According to police reports, the two men had been travelling north on the highway in Mr. Katona's model A sedan. McMillan was driven when the owner asked that they return to Vernon. On the way back, he assaulted and robbed Mr. Katona and pushed him out of the car near the gate of Arthur C. Hamilton's home. The injured man crawled to the house and Mr. Hamilton called the police. They took the victim to the Jubilee Hospital where two gashes on his scalp required several stitches. They then located the automobile and found McMillan in the rooming house.

The case will be heard later this week.

Lumby Legionnaires Now Own Land for New Building

LUMBY, Sept. 18.—The monthly meeting of the Canadian Legion was held in Lumby on September 18 with about 40 members present. As a result of the success of the Legion dance on August 23, the branch was able to complete payment on their property opposite the Lumby Garage.

Messrs. Murphy, Treen and Brisco were appointed as trustees to handle the property and the proposed Legion Hall.

Lack of building materials will probably delay construction of this building until next spring.

A dance is planned in the Lumby Community Hall on or around Armistice Day, November 11.

The Women's Auxiliary is arranging to have a White Elephant sale during October.

At the next monthly meeting it is hoped that a building committee will be formed to plan the new hall and attempt to line up sufficient material for the project.

The next meeting will be held on October 1.

Vernon Milk Will Alleviate Severe Kamloops Shortage

KAMLOOPS, Sept. 11.—Arrangements have been completed for the importation of milk to alleviate the severe shortage in Kamloops.

While in Vernon recently, C. Schrauwen, secretary of Kamloops United Dairies Limited, contracted with the Okanagan Valley Co-operative Creamery Association for a supply of pasteurized milk.

Shipments are to commence almost immediately and are to continue according to terms of the contract, until May 3, 1947, at which time it is hoped that dairymen in this area will be in a position to meet the requirements of the local market.

The milk, arriving in bulk after pasteurization at the Vernon creamery plant, will be bottled and distributed by Kamloops United Dairies.

Some cement went to farmers in the North Thompson area on Tuesday. This will enable them to make improvements to their barns and dairies to bring them up to standard so that they may ship milk into Kamloops this fall.

All milkmen join in an appeal to householders to carefully conserve milk bottles. Because of industrial tie-ups no new bottles are available and the shortage of these containers is becoming acute.

Fates of Friday 13th Distributed Good and Bad Luck to City Housewives

The weight of superstition about Friday the 13th was measured in terms of a pound of shortening by hundreds of early shoppers at a local chain store on that fateful morning. The lucky housewives were those who learned by the grapevine that a carton of the precious stuff would go on sale the next morning. The unlucky were those attracted to the store by the crowds of well-informed, who were by then on their way to the cash register with all the shortening safely tucked in shopping baskets. The come-latelies had to be content with soap or salt.

"It was the biggest mob I've seen form a long time," said one of the clerks, "but they were quite peaceful compared to some near riots I have witnessed among smaller crowds."

An elderly man who had been successful in this foray was greeted with "Hall the conquering hero" by some of the cronies who had remained in the quiet shade of the City Hall corner.

Housewives to whom the shortening shortage is more in the nature of a domestic tragedy, could not take such a light view of the matter. They were divided into three distinct classes, according to the natural psychological reactions to the event.

First, those who would be able to make Friday fry day. They could scarcely conceal smiles of triumph, or just plain satisfaction with their success. Second, those who had thrust a hand into the huge carton fumbled in its depths to find the last pound gone. They suffered the keenest disappointment and there was definite chagrin in their remarks of "Too little or too late." The third class were those who stopped in front of the store to gaze on the happy procession of laden bearers streaming past the counter.

From experience, they knew what had preceded this march of triumph and they stood on the curb and consoling themselves with "It isn't worth it."

New Student Cards To Be Issued to High School Pupils

Walter Bennett, manager of the Capitol and Empress theatres, addressed the students of the Vernon Junior and Senior High School on Friday, concerning the use of student cards. These cards, which have been a student privilege for the past six or seven years, allow the pupils of Grades IX to XIII to enter either theatre for half the adult price.

Mr. Bennett stated that during the past year this privilege has been abused and, unless the students agree to obey the rules governing the use of the cards, he will be forced to discontinue their use.

W. R. Pepper, principal of the High School, told the students that it is only a small percentage of their number who are abusing the privilege by passing their cards on to the non-school friends and obtaining new ones with the excuse that theirs was lost or stolen.

This year strict conditions will govern the use of the card. Each student will be issued one and if that is lost he or she will have to pay adult price. The 1946-47 cards will be issued within the next week.

Kamloops Vernon Road Described As Disgraceful

KAMLOOPS, Sept. 15.—"An absolute disgrace!" That was one of the phrases used in city council reports when aldermen expressed their views on the Kamloops-Vernon road, particularly in this part of the interior. The reference in this case was to the Kamloops-Vernon road.

The subject was touched off by Alderman Keith McAllister, just back from a motor trip. He had "enjoyed the displeasure" of driving over B.C. roads and he believed those in this district to be the worst. Conditions around Oliver and around Kelowna, he said, appeared better. He believed first effort should be directed toward having the Trans-Canada highway from Kamloops to Salmon Arm brought up to standard. He had been in Kamloops six years, he said, and nothing more had been accomplished on that road than the driving of stakes toward having every organization in town to impress on the government the need of putting the road into first-class shape.

Ald. Charles Henderson felt that the Trans-Canada highway would receive attention anyway as it was a "short-cut" route to Vernon and the one naturally travelled between Kamloops and the Okanagan which needed first care. "It is an absolute disgrace," he declared. He urged concentration on this until the present terrible road is replaced by one with a permanent surface.

Alderman J. E. Fitzwater followed Alderman Henderson and backed him in his statements that the Vernon road, as the main one to the Okanagan, urgently needed attention.

It is high time the Okanagan-Oliver Trail Association was revived, declared Alderman W. J. Moffatt.

He urged that a road between Kamloops and Vernon over which people could drive without having 25 percent of the life of their car taken out of it in one trip. There is a bridge, he continued, not far from Kamloops, which would be a disgrace in horse and buggy days. He wanted the Kamloops-Vernon road brought up to standard and faster progress made on the Salmon Arm road.

Unless British Columbia goes after better roads the tourist business will suffer, said Alderman Moffatt. He believed other interior towns would back the re-establishment of the Okanagan-Oliver Trail Association.

Mayor F. W. Scott felt that the Vernon road could be improved without too much expense. The amount of traffic on it warranted proper surfacing, he declared. Maintenance under present conditions is wasteful. Motorists would save, too, on repair bills.

Vagaries of Time, Store Closing, Irk West Side People

NAHUN, Sept. 18.—The uncertainty as to whether certain towns are using Fast or Standard Time and the variance in days and time of closing of stores throughout the Valley leads to much confusion, and annoyance to those travelling in the Valley. All day closing on Thursday, which is a mail day in this area, has made the procuring of meat from Vernon very difficult during the hot weather. While there appears to be little objection to the all-day closing, Wednesday would have been a more convenient day. As Wednesday is the standard closing day throughout the prairie provinces and many other places, tourists expect to find stores closed on Wednesday and not on Thursday.

441,000,000 Bushel Crop Seen in Wheat

The Winnipeg Free Press said this week in its final crop report for 1946 that a wheat harvest of 441,000,000 bushels, largest since 1942 and fourth largest of the last 10 years, was seen for Western Canada. Last year's crop was 282,000,000 bushels.

The Free Press said large crops of coarse grains are also in sight for the West, including wheat. Western Canada's fertile fields should produce more than 900,000,000 bushels of cereals as compared to 712,000,000 bushels last year.

(The Free Press wheat estimate was almost 10,000 bushels higher than that of the Winnipeg Tribune issued last week.)

Power Commission Preparing For Campbell River Project

Work has commenced in clearing the trees and debris from the area of some 700 acres which will be flooded by the head dam in the B.C. Power Commission's Campbell River development. It was announced by Premier John Hart.

The travelling crane for the Campbell River power house has been delivered in Vancouver. Messrs. Hume and Rumble, contractors for the construction of the transmission line from Campbell River, have a small organization setting tower footings, about 18 percent of which have been delivered while the delivery of steel tower material has been held up as a result of the steel strike.

Workmen fixing a grate at the New Inn at Laleston, England, uncovered an oak beam carved with the date 1679.

Old Fashioned "Bee" Aids Westside Farmers' Harvest And Process Their Crops

NAHUN, Sept. 18.—Harvesting of the various crops in Nahun and Ewing's Landing districts is in full swing with a slight improvement in the labor situation, which was serious. Good fellowship and co-operation, however, can solve many such problems as exemplified this week when the entire company, management and staff left the cannery and tomato fields at Nahun for a day and went to the assistance of one of their number, Henry Hoffman, who had three acres of onions in the field at his farm, "Highlands," which were in need of harvesting.

The result of this old fashioned "Bee," popular in Canadian pioneer days, was a major portion of the onion crop pulled, allowing Mr. Hoffman and his family to return to their respective duties at the Cannery the following day.

Tomatoes are now ripening and canning operations continuous.

A crop which appears to do well in this district, while not yet grown in commercial quantity, is grapes. The variety "Campbell's Early" as grown at Cottonwoods, has proven hardy, sweet and flavorful as a table grape, and satisfactory for use in the making of jams and jellies.

Richard Byron-Johnson of Okanagan Landing, was a recent visitor at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Byron-Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Philpott, of Rutland, are occupying one of the cabins at Terrace Bay near Cottonwoods. Mr. Philpott is engaged in hauling logs from Terrace Mountain.

Mrs. A. Hollick-Kenyon is paying a short visit to her ranch at Ewing's Landing.

The Hollick and Howland Sawmill on Whiteman's Creek is operating at full capacity. The truck is running early and late hauling ties and lumber in an endeavor to supply the brisk demand for such material.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Thompson of Whiteman's Creek, were among the guests attending the Maxwell-Sulter nuptials at Grandview.

A Nahun resident says: "It is said we 'knock' our roads. We have been under the impression for many years that the road was knocking us. If this be not so, what causes this peculiar sensation of rising and falling from the car seat with rapidity and force as we traverse the highway?"

At the end of March, a total of 43,500 veterans were receiving out-of-work allowances, but by the end of June this figure had dropped to about 33,300.

promises a glorious future

Because we are a moderate people, Canada has come through the war with perhaps the least dislocation of any nation actively involved. That is a remarkable tribute both to the overall policies of our Government and to the fundamental wisdom of the Canadian people.

And it holds out a glorious promise for the future. But to make that promise come true in the days ahead we shall have to continue to live up to our principles of moderation. We shall have to continue to think, act and live—moderately.

To give in to the natural desire for immediate enjoyment of everything and anything presently in short supply can result only in inflation and disaster.

This is not our way.

The House of Seagram suggests that each day's enjoyment be moderate, so that the rich promise of Canada's tomorrow can be fulfilled . . . to the full.

Simple Way to Modernize Kitchen Sink

If your kitchen sink is an old-fashioned eyesore like the one inset above, you can bring it up-to-date with two inexpensive cabinets, a simple carpentry job and coats of bright paint. To modernize the sink, first remove the drainboard. Then build a box-like frame under the sink and attach the two cabinets to the frame sides. Add doors to close in the section. Paint the entire unit to harmonize with the rest of the room. To add a final flip, put gay decals on cabinet doors and on window valance.

Autumn BRIDES

James - Morratt

Of interest to a wide circle of friends in Vernon and district is the marriage solemnized by the bride's father in the flower-filled chapel of Christ Church Cathedral, Vancouver, on Wednesday, September 4, of Winifred Muriel Denning, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Leonard A. Morratt of Abbotsford, and Frank Bernard James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Heslop L. James.

Mr. Morratt, who held the rank of honorary major in the Canadian Forces, was stationed in Vernon on two occasions; in 1942 and later, during the closing phases of the war. At one time he was Anglican rector at Armstrong.

For her wedding the bride wore a long-sleeved cerulean blue crepe street-length gown, with pink feathers and hat. Her sister-attendant, Betty Morratt, wore a grey crepe afternoon gown and hat of fuchsia feathers. Arthur James was groomsmen.

Bathgate - Henschke

In a candlelight ceremony amid a setting of late summer flowers at the Vernon United Church on Saturday evening, September 14, Miss Mae Henschke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Henschke, of Vernon, exchanged marriage vows with Robert Bathgate, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bathgate, of Vancouver. Rev. G. E. Payne officiated at the ceremony which was held on the occasion of the bride's parents' 25th wedding anniversary.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white silk jersey, a trailing veil of white silk net falling from a coronet of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of red roses. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Harold King, of matron of honor, and Miss Vera Higel, a bridesmaid. The former wore a floor-length gown of pale yellow chiffon over taffeta and a head-dress of white silk lace accented by flowers similar to those in her bouquet, which was a mauve Princess walters and a corsage of roses. Hagel wore blue net over taffeta and a similar headdress. She carried rose pink Princess asters and stocks.

Gordon Henschke, brother of the bride, and Samuel Sullivan, of Vancouver, were the groomsmen. Bill Koshman and Bill Inglis ushered. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Charles Hardcastle, aunt of the groom, accompanied by Mrs. C. W. Gaunt-Stevenson on the organ, sang "Beethoven."

After the ceremony approximately 70 friends gathered at a reception at the home of the bride's parents. Receiving the guests was the bride's mother, Mrs. Felix Henschke, attired in a two-piece suit of gold wool, with brown hat and accessories and a corsage of roses. She was assisted by the mother of the groom, Mrs. W. Bathgate, in a rose suit, black accessories and a shoulder spray of pink and white roses.

The bride's table was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake on a bedded in pale blue tulle, flanked by white tapers in silver holders. The table and room were decorated with summer flowers.

First Baptist Women's Group Hears of Children's Wonderland in Coast Garden

What is being done in her garden by one woman, with a keen sense of responsibility in fostering good citizenship for future generations, is exemplified by Mrs. W. W. McGill of Victoria, a guest last week of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Gordon, Pine Street. Interviewed during her stay here, during which time she addressed a women's group in First Baptist Church on September 10; Peachland Women's Institute on September 12; Coldstream P.T.A., September 13; Kelowna Gyros, Tuesday; Penticton P.T.A., Wednesday, and Peachland P.T.A., today, Thursday, Mrs. McGill told of her children's garden, which she conducts with the aid of voluntary help from 26 mothers and teachers in her home garden at 1170 Tattersall Drive, Victoria.

This is a unique and interesting child training project. Mrs. McGill came to the Okanagan Valley in the interests of preschool education, and is advocating a new type of combined parent-child education. To quote Mrs. McGill: "Educators and parents alike are at last beginning to realize that fathers and mothers need training for their job of parenthood, the greatest job earth."

These parent-child projects are known as co-operative play groups, as mothers co-operate in providing regular supervised play for children ages 3, 4 and 5.

Parents claim that precious time is wasted in not having children take part in group activities long before the age of 6. Small children who learn how to play with other kiddies have a far better chance of achieving fine social adjustment throughout life than those who wait until school age," claims Mrs. McGill.

In studying child needs and behavior, mothers have the best opportunity for learning how to guide and nurture their own children wisely, she asserts. Fathers have a part in helping build simple play-ground equipment, developing a family "togetherness," so dear to Mrs. McGill in her self-imposed task.

The project was started in 1944. Hunter, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Hunter of Armstrong.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown in train fashion, with a sweetheart neck line and lily point sleeves, misted by silk net veil, the train of which extended beyond her gown. Her bouquet was of red roses, white carnations and white sweet peas.

Bridesmaid, Miss Patricia Bruns, wore a gown of blue tulle, made on similar lines to that worn by the bride, and a shower bouquet of early autumn bloom.

Little Miss Sharon Savage, the flower girl, carrying a colonial bouquet of autumn bloom, looked sweet in her floor-length gown of pink taffeta.

Edward Iannaccone was best man. During the signing of the register, "Because" was sung by Miss Vera Charlesworth.

Following the ceremony some 40 relatives and friends attended the reception given at the home of the bride's parents, 468 East Broadway, where the toast to the bride was proposed by Theodore Le Page. Among the out-of-town guests was the groom's father, Willis Hunter.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter arrived in Armstrong on September 10, after spending their honeymoon in Banff.

On their arrival, Tuesday night, some 40 neighbors and friends attended the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Hunter at their home at Knob Hill. Refreshments were served by Mrs. E. Dockstader, Mrs. F. Hunter, Mrs. W. Parkinson and Miss Evelyn Kall.

Mr. Hunter has recently received his discharge from the R.C.A.F., and now plans to reside in Armstrong.

Sulter - Maxwell
WHITEMAN'S CREEK, Sept. 16. — A wedding of interest in this district took place on September 5 at Grandview when Lois Lillian Maxwell, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Maxwell of White-man's Creek was united in marriage to Marvin Sulter of Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. Sulter will make their future home at College Heights, Alberta.

Richard Ivor Hayward, older son of Chief Constable and Mrs. R. H. Hayward, was the groom, and was supported by his brother, Donald Hayward of the Signal Corps in Victoria.

As the bride entered the flower-filled church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride's Bridesmaid, who was played by Mrs. Wilmer Aslin, the ceremony was solemnized by Rev. W. O. McKee, under an arch of pink and white streamers and gladioli.

Ernest Villet, brother of the groom, acted as usher. During the signing of the register, "Love Divine," was sung by Wilmer Aslin.

A wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents. Tables were decorated and one was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake. Guests were received by Mrs. Villet, assisted by the groom's mother, the former wearing a dressmaker suit of Heaven blue with a corsage of pink gladioli, while the latter chose a dressmaker suit of powder blue with a corsage of pink carnations. Serving were Mrs. J. Buller, Mrs. W. Meggitt, Miss Rita Enns and Miss Mary Meggitt.

The toast to the couple was proposed by the bride's father.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayward left later for Vancouver and will take up residence at 210 - 7th St., New Westminster.

The principals have recently received their discharge from the Army, the former belonging to the Signal Corps while the latter, a sergeant, was a stenographer in the Health Department of the C.W.A.O. The groom will now enter University to take a course in electrical engineering.

Hunter - McCormac
ARMSTRONG, Sept. 17.—Of interest to a large circle of friends in this city and district was the wedding solemnized in a beautiful setting of autumn bloom, in St. Michael's Anglican Church, Vancouver, when marriage vows were heard by Rev. Canon G. H. Wilson, United Elmer McCormac, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. McCormac of Vancouver, and Willis Bruce

For the Bride...

Mrs. I. Grosier, Mrs. W. Borgens, Miss Elsie Weston and Miss Pearl Hopkins were co-hostesses at the home of the former the evening of Wednesday, September 11, honoring Miss Dorothy Jensen, whose marriage to Albert Coatsworth is scheduled for October 3.

The affair, which took the form of a miscellaneous shower, was a complete surprise to the honoree, who was the recipient of a number of beautiful gifts, brought in to the flower-filled reception rooms in a decorated hamper.

A bride's cake was trimmed with pink and white ribbons to match the decorations of the table which it centred, flanked by burning shell-pink tapers in silver scones and pink flower arrangements. Mrs. Crozier poured, with Mrs. Borgens, Miss Weston and Miss Hopkins serving. About 25 friends attended.

has received voluntary contributions from many of the partners and interested public-minded citizens, and feels there is considerable truth in the Biblical teaching that "bread cast on the waters will return after many days."

Mrs. McGill's husband is a prominent Victoria druggist. He has helped his wife and contributed much to the success of the project with his advice and enthusiasm, as have her three young daughters, now in advanced "teen-age," who assist with the morning classes, and help in the house to free their mother.

The National Film Board has taken movies of the project; and it has caught the imagination of citizens everywhere.

Mrs. McGill stated to The Vernon News that this is one of the first lessons in citizenship and democratic rights. Before her marriage, Miss Gertrude Elsey, she taught at Armstrong Schools, and claims Summerland as her hometown. Many a time she declared she spent week ends in Vernon, where her old friends were glad to see her again last week.

Drama Expert Inspires Little Theatre Group

The visit to Vernon of Miss Dorothy Somerset has been a "shot in the arm" to the Vernon Little Theatre Association, which gained inspiration and practical knowledge from the five day course conducted last week.

Miss Somerset's instruction is based on knowledge gained the hard way. For two years she studied in the London Central School of Speech Training under the late E. J. Fox. She also took a special course at the Ginner-Mawer School in London, Eng.

Through special permission from Ginner-Mawer one summer recently she "sat in" on the direction of the Pasadena Community Playhouse, which holds a Shakespeare festival during July and August. She saw four directors at work there and watched their methods, "which was a rare privilege." Ginner-Mawer is the founder and head of the Playhouse in that California city.

For three years Miss Somerset has specialized in dramatics, University Department of Education. She is connected with the U.B.C. Extension Department, honorary president of the Players' Club of the U.B.C. and president of the Western Canada Theatre Conference.

In an interview, Miss Somerset stressed the value to women's groups of the programs available to them in other subjects, such as current events, economics, child psychology, music, handicrafts, cooking, dressmaking and several others. The fee for this course is very low.

That the future for the Vernon Little Theatre is bright, with excellent potential material, was a statement made by Miss Somerset before leaving. She was particularly enthused by the idea of George Hopping, president, that the Association obtain two Army huts when they are declared surplus, for a building of their own. "It has exciting possibilities," said Miss Somerset. She left on Saturday for Kelowna and southern points.

Vernon to Be Scene Of Stagette Club's '47 District Meet

The District Convention of Stagette Clubs will be held in Vernon next year.

So Vernon Stagette Club past-president Miss Rhoda Foster states after attending a Stagette National Convention held Labor Day weekend in Vancouver, which was a most successful event, she declares. Also attending from the Vernon Club was Miss Nancy Bowen.

They brought home to Vernon the Attendance Shield, the first time it has ever left Saskatchewan.

Acting Mayor H. Jones welcomed the delegates, and after business sessions, were entertained at a banquet in Stanley Park Pavilion. Stagettes attended from B. C., Alberta and Saskatchewan. Miss Bowen was elected District Governor and Miss Foster District Secretary.

This year's National project is Child Welfare. The Vernon branch of the Club met on Tuesday evening of this week, when it was decided that form Child Welfare should take locally. Another election of officers was held, as the Club's membership had been depleted since the summer vacation by girls leaving for positions elsewhere. A further story will be carried next week.

Badges of Service for Three Vernon Red Cross Workers

Mrs. L. R. H. Nash, Mrs. Gavin Davis and Miss Hilda Both all received Badges of Service from the Canadian Red Cross Society on Monday night, in recognition of their work during the war years on the home front.

In presenting the Badges, D. Gordon Skinner, president of the Vernon branch, paid tribute to the unselfish performance of these ladies during the years when personal anxieties and pressure of additional work were not too great to allow time for others. After Mr. Skinner had pinned the gold-mounted red and white enamel pins, engraved with the recipients' names, on their lapels, Mrs. Davis said that it "was a pleasure to work among the men so far from home."

Letters received from men long after they had left Vernon, from the battlefields of Europe testified that the work of the Corps was appreciated and remembered, said Mrs. Davis. "It was a pleasure to work with the Red Cross." The little ceremony took place at the end of an executive meeting.

Mara Friends Honor Miss I. Kirshfeldt

MARA, Sept. 16.—Mara ladies were entertained last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Bell in honor of Miss Irene Kirshfeldt. During the afternoon Miss Kirshfeldt was presented with a cedar chest of writing materials and a vanity set by Mrs. J. Callens on behalf of Mara residents. Mrs. V. H. Stephens acted as pianist, while Mrs. Macready entertained with a number of well known songs. Delightful refreshments were served during the afternoon.

Miss Kirshfeldt is leaving for Vancouver this week, where she will enter the University of B.C. Friends wish her success in her new sphere.

How to make a recipe fit what's on hand

Did you ever discover after you had started on a recipe that you didn't have all the ingredients on hand that the recipe called for? While it isn't wise to tamper with delicate or complicated recipes, there are some simple substitutions that may be made and the recipe will turn out practically the same as if you had the ingredients called for.

IF THE RECIPE CALLS FOR SWEET MILK—you may substitute for each cup: 1/2 cup evaporated milk diluted with 1/2 cup water or 1 cup sour milk or buttermilk plus 1/2 teaspoon soda. (If the recipe calls for baking powder, reduce the baking powder 1 1/2 teaspoons) or 1 cup skim milk plus 2 teaspoons shortening or salad oil.

IF THE RECIPE CALLS FOR SOUR MILK—you may substitute for each cup: 1 cup sweet milk. Omit any soda called for in the recipe and increase the baking powder 1 1/2 teaspoons or 1 cup sweet milk (or 1/2 cup evaporated milk diluted with 1/2 cup water) plus 1 1/2 tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice. (Add vinegar or lemon juice to milk; let stand in warm place 15 to 20 minutes. Use the same as sour milk.)

IF THE RECIPE CALLS FOR LIGHT CREAM—you may substitute for each cup: 1 cup undiluted evaporated milk or 1/2 cup milk plus 4 tablespoons shortening or salad oil. (Use this substitution only in cooked or baked recipes; in frozen desserts and molded salads the shortening or oil will separate.)

IF THE RECIPE CALLS FOR UNSWEETENED CHOCOLATE—you may substitute for each 1-ounce square, 1/4 cup ground chocolate or 1/4 cup cocoa, plus 1 1/2 teaspoons shortening.

Tiny, Fascinating Morsels Of Humanity Checked on Growth at Well-Baby Clinic

—Friday Field Day for Pinks vs. Blues

Shirley, three months old, had gained seven ounces in two weeks. Teddy, four months, had put on 11 ounces in that time.

Dick, a tremendous young man of 11 months, solemnly sat on the weighing tray of the scales in his birthday suit, looking around at a semi-circle of admiring nurses and parents, without a hint of embarrassment. His gain in two weeks was amazing and duly recorded in the ledger kept for that purpose. The mothers received a notation in blue "weight cards" which they brought with them. This is typical of the Well Baby Clinic held every Friday afternoon at the Women's Institute Hall under the direction of the North Okanagan Health Unit.

The young ladies, as for example, dainty Wanda, are at the age when they take their gains in weight with a grin. Twenty years from now they will not be so pleased when they tip the scales at anything from half to three-quarters of a pound or more, every two weeks.

Back into gowns, booties and bonnets, pink and white for the girls; the sturdy little man's attire being completed with what is known in maternity circles and the nursing profession as a "kite," meaning the latest way of folding the flannellette squares now so hard to come by.

Last Friday the group of Public Health Nurses seemed well satisfied with the records. They put a few questions to the mothers. For example: "How is Shirley taking her orange juice now?" "Are you giving her cod-liver oil yet?" "Best wait a week or two until the weather changes." "You can give Wanda more marmalade," and in the next breath she warned the parent of the afternoon's he-man to go easy on potatoes.

"The mothers who bring their babies here are those most concerned; who take motherhood seriously."

"Generally speaking, the infants who pass through our hands are better cared for than those who do not attend. The very fact that mothers take advantage of this service indicates proper anxiety over their babies," said Miss Doris Carter, Public Health Nurse.

One little boy with a marvellous sun tan, fair hair and huge brown eyes, had had difficulty in "keeping down" his formula. On the advice obtained at the Clinic his mother had changed it. "I can hardly believe it; after the time I had with him," she declared. "The reporter thought she had never seen such a bonny boy, in his blue smocked, white silk rompers."

In this way, tomorrow's children are guarded during their first two years. Young mothers are advised and helped by the hints from child experts. This service is free to all.

When the mother goes home from the hospital with her baby, Miss Carter visits them, until the infant is about six weeks old, or until everything is going smoothly. Then they are invited to attend the Clinic.

Vernon has some beautiful babies. The Health Unit's services are available to all mothers, to lay the foundations for strong, healthy children.

Penticton Goes All-Out for Postal Delivery

PENTICTON, Sept. 18.—A strong delegation from the Penticton Board of Trade met G. H. Clarke, district director of postal services, last week end. This group emphasized the importance of getting carrier delivery established in Penticton, before Christmas, if at all possible.

Decision to take this action was reached at the first fall meeting of the Penticton Board of Trade, following an analysis of the situation by Postmaster G. B. Latimer, and a discussion by members. The group will point out the muddle likely to ensue if another Christmas mail has to be handled through present facilities at the post-office.

Linked with this decision is the action of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which undertook the work of preparing a directory for Penticton, one of the essentials for the carrier system.

One suggestion, advanced by H. S. Kenyon, is that if an entire town delivery cannot be obtained at once, that it might be possible to get a delivery for the business area. This would relieve a small amount of congestion at the post office, and eliminate some postal boxes. Thus some further wicket provision might be arranged.

An enthusiastic response to the appeal that the Junior Chamber of Commerce take an active part in clearing the way for carrier delivery was given at the first fall meeting of the "Jaycees" held in the Incola Hotel a few days ago. Immediate steps are now being undertaken by the civic affairs committee of the organization, toward preparing the directory.

It was pointed out that Penticton's population has doubled since before the war, and greatly increased since the last census in 1941. There are no accurate list of persons receiving mail here is available.

A letter from Mr. Latimer to the Jaycees suggested as a slogan "Carrier Delivery by Christmas," and added that the institution of the directory is one of the key items in this. The other is numbering of the houses.

Man Home After Seven Year "Visit" to Britain

John R. Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Roberts, left Vernon in July, 1939, to visit relatives in England. His "visit" lasted over seven years. He returned last week on demobilization leave from the British Army in which he served for the past three years.

"There had been a war scare for a year before I left Vernon," Mr. Roberts said on Monday, "so I hadn't thought of it breaking during my visit in the summer of 1939."

His application for flying crew in the R.A.F. at outbreak of war was rejected because of his vision and he joined the Bristol Aircraft Company, patching up the fighters in which "the few" fought the Battle of Britain. It was a rush job. When a plane arrived home shot up, it had to be put in commission for the next day. A can was thrown around it and the mechanics went to work. The airports were under continual bombing and strafing by the Germans. As machine gun fire came down the runways, the repair crews ran for sandbag shelter at the edge of the field. Once, a bomb exploded 50 yards from Mr. Roberts. He had not reached the shelter and threw himself flat beneath an oak tree. This was his closest call. In 1943 he joined the Royal Artillery, but was kept in England because of a stomach disability. He was on transport duty with a light anti-aircraft regiment which defended ammunition dumps, bridges and other vulnerable sites from enemy aircraft attacks.

During the Battle of Britain, "the sky over Kent was black with German planes," said Mr. Roberts. "The British were really clawing them out of the air, and in the latter part of '42 the situation became reversed. The turning point of the war came as British and American production made it possible to smash German aircraft and the factories which produced them."

"The British people amazed me, the way they stood up to the early bombing. They went all out more than any other nation, considering their population."

At the height of the fire blitz in London he saw reflections of the blazing city from 35 miles away.

Arthur Roberts, his brother, was a Flight Lieutenant in the R.A.F. and John saw him several times before he was shot down in 1940 and spent five years as a prisoner. "He looked better than I expected when he got back to England," said John, "but much older."

Since the war, food and clothing rationing have been the most difficult problems. People also are desperate for housing accommodation. There is no shortage here, in comparison. Veterans and their families had begun to move into army camps a few weeks before Mr. Roberts left England.

Bread rationing created great annoyance because people could not understand why, after all the deprivations of war, this staple article should be rationed. Mr. Roberts thought the cause was the ending of lend-lease and the fact that although much food was going to Britain, a great deal of it was sent on to Europe.

English women are clamoring for nylons. They were unheard of during the war, but now young ladies try to coax their parents to save them a few clothing coupons so they may gather enough for a precious pair of the hose. There are few coupons to spare. A man's three-piece suit requires 28 coupons, or almost a year's ration.

However, there was one pleasant aspect to the British housewife: a more even distribution of cakes. "There were more on display in shop windows than I had ever seen before," said Mr. Roberts. "When I got to Montreal I ordered a porterhouse steak. After the waitress set it down, I asked her if I was supposed to cut it up for my two companions as well. It would have been a week's ration in England. And white bread is certainly a luxury."

The English are becoming more concerned about developments with Russia. "At one time, they couldn't speak too highly of the Russian army. Now, they watch developments with considerable concern, largely due to the fact that Russian manpower is out of all proportion to what could be mustered in the British Isles."

On his return to Vernon, Mr. Roberts was surprised at the growth of the city. "It was about twice as large as before the war. The city bus service and the huts on Mission Hill were among things which had been added."

"And green trees and mountains were a welcome sight after the long trip across the prairies," he added. Mr. Roberts has not yet made any plans for the future. "After so long away even the old home town seems strange and I am just trying to get acclimated again. There seems to be fewer old familiar faces around than I expected."

In the near future, he intends to visit his sister, Ruth Roberts, in Vancouver, as well as other friends at the Coast.

Peachland Takes More Than 700 Ration Books

PEACHLAND, Sept. 17.—Mrs. M. Twinn was in charge of the distribution of Ration Books, September 10, with Mrs. F. E. Wright assisting. Seven hundred and twenty-nine cards were given out. Volunteers helping with this work in the morning were Mrs. A. E. Miller; Mrs. F. E. Witt; Mrs. H. M. Ibbotson; Mrs. C. C. Duquenois; Mrs. William C. Atkins; Mrs. A. McKay; in the afternoon, Mrs. J. P. Long, Mrs. H. S. McDonald; Mr. W. E. Clements; Miss M. Leach; Mrs. P. C. Gerrie; Mrs. W. G. Renfrew; and Mrs. M. Ferguson.

Polio Not Only Threat To Nation

The present outbreak of poliomyelitis in scattered sections of Canada is tragic—in that it is killing and crippling many of our unfortunate victims, the Health League of Canada said in a statement issued recently. It added, it is important that at this time Canadians do not lose sight of the fact that there are other diseases—preventable diseases—which year in and year out take a greater toll than poliomyelitis.

The statement issued in connection with forthcoming "National Immunization Week"—September 29 to October 5, said that few Canadians realize that whooping cough in 1945 caused more deaths in Canada than poliomyelitis, diphtheria and scarlet fever combined.

There were 457 deaths from whooping cough, 270 from diphtheria, 79 from scarlet fever and 24 from polio. And, none of the first three were considered to be epidemic at any time during the year.

The statement said that while it is tragic that medical science has been unsuccessful in attempts to develop a preventive for poliomyelitis, it also is tragic that the Canadian public does not co-operate in the present in the available means to wipe out either wholly or partially preventable. "It was pointed out that thousands of lives have been saved by the use of toxoid, which is almost 100 percent effective as a diphtheria immunizing agent. There is whooping cough vaccine which is 80 percent effective, and, in cases where immunized persons do contract whooping cough, the attacks are much milder. Scarlet fever immunizing agent is a toxin which is 80 percent effective."

"However, despite the availability of these protective measures, the diseases concerned still menace the health of Canada's population, children particularly," the statement said. "As long as parents neglect to have their children immunized by these effective agents, these particular diseases will continue to prove a greater menace than polio, except in years when the latter is in severe epidemic stage."

Following is a comparative chart showing cases and deaths from the diseases concerned during the last three years:

Disease	1943	1944	1945	Total
Poliomyelitis	384	721	1,043	2,148
Diphtheria	24	194	39	257
Scarlet fever	28	194	39	257
Whooping cough	1,210	1,232	1,043	3,485
Polio	1,043	721	384	2,148
Deaths	24	79	24	127
Polio	1,043	721	384	2,148
Deaths	24	79	24	127

The statement said a review of figures supplied by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reveals that during the first 20 weeks of 1946 there were reported in Canada 68 cases of poliomyelitis, 5,339 cases of whooping cough, 4,131 of scarlet fever, and 1,34 of diphtheria. It pointed out that the first cases in some years—but damage it is ever becoming epidemic among the thousands of persons who have not been vaccinated. It is true that there were only five cases in 1945 and no deaths—the first cases in some years—but recently there had been an outbreak on the Pacific Coast.

Kelowna Soon to Have Carrier Postal Delivery

KELOWNA, Sept. 13.—Kelowna will have carrier postal delivery before the end of October if present plans are read correctly. This opinion is based on the following facts: 1. the civil service has authorized for applications of the position of postal carriers here; 2. applications for these positions must be in Ottawa by September 24; 3. postal authorities are again appealing for people to get their house numbers up and their slots in; 4. the carrier staff must obtain some experience before the Christmas rush commences; 5. postal authorities are asking Kelowna people to advise all their correspondents that they should henceforth put the street address as well as the post office box address on all mail.

Postmaster E. R. Bailey states that it was impossible to indicate any date that the new service would start but that he anticipated that it would commence "in the very near future."

He says that commencement of the service depended on several factors, the least of which was the proper number being placed on all the houses in the city and the providing of mail slots in the doors or locked boxes.

Advertise For Carriers
N. W. Buck, superintendent of letter carriers, Vancouver, was in Kelowna last week making a final survey of the situation and making preliminary plans for the carrier routes.

Notices have been posted in the post office stating that applications would be accepted by the civil service department for the position of letter carriers in Kelowna. It is now estimated that between six and ten men will be needed. The number will not be definitely known until final plans are made.

Two Deliveries Daily
There will be definitely two deliveries each day, excepting Saturday, when there will be no afternoon delivery. The hours of the deliveries have not yet been decided.

Letter carriers commence at $1,644 a year with uniforms provided and a boot allowance made. There are definite increases in salary until the figure of $2,124 is reached. Returned men, of course, will be given preference of the positions.

"It is imperative," Mr. Buck stated, "that the houses all have their new numbers on them and that the numbers should be clearly visible from the street. Letter slots must be provided because mail cannot be delivered and left unprotected on steps."

How pleasant it is to LOOK BACK

FARMING is in our blood. Most of us cherish a warm regard for Canada's smiling fields and farm homes. Many city people look back a generation or so to farm homes. And naturally so. Seventy-five years ago when Confederation Life Association was founded, Canada was largely an agricultural country.

But in those days farming was a local affair. The Prairie Provinces had not been opened up. Little wheat, cattle or dairy produce was exported. Canada was still destined to become "The Granary of the British Empire" and the world's largest wheat exporting country. No. 1 Northern Wheat was still to become the standard by which wheats from all the world were to be judged.

Confederation Life Association has had a long and agreeable connection with the farming community. It has kept pace with its growth. It has given the benefits of Life Insurance to generations of farmers and their families.

It has also helped to build Canada's farm homes and wealth by making mortgage loans to thousands of progressive farmers. These farmers were able to build their homes and develop their lands because of the financial aid they got from Confederation Life mortgage loans.

In this the Seventy-Fifth Anniversary Year of Confederation Life, it is pleasant to recall the complete confidence in the Security and Stability that the Association enjoys among the Canada's farming community. Confederation Life Association will continue to be worthy of this confidence.

Some farmers prefer an iodized salt block to the plain variety. The small but vital iodine content is not sufficient of itself to distinguish an iodine salt block from a plain one, so a harmless red pigment is added that makes identification easy.

Now Chemistry enables the farmer to put longer life into his fence posts by the use of Chromated Zinc Chloride solution. Green posts are immersed in the solution and the chemical is taken up by the sap stream to permeate the wood and make it resistant to insects and decay.

Autumn Flower Show at Enderby Galaxy of Color

ENDERBY, Sept. 10.—A successful Fall flower show was sponsored by the Enderby Garden Club on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 7, in Parish Hall. This was the final in the series of shows this year. In spite of the dry weather during the summer there was a splendid display of prize blooms. The quality of the exhibits improves with the years, and Harry H. Evans of Vernon, who has been judge for a long period, warmly praised the display from Enderby gardeners. Mrs. John McPherson, who has been top winner during the year has, since the start of the show, been able to carry away most of the honors with her high quality blooms.

After president Mrs. E. E. Harvey announced the winners on Saturday, Mr. Evans gave a short talk to the competitors, pointing out several ways in which they might improve their flower arrangements so as to bring up their total score. Mr. Evans stated that when a competitor loses out, it is largely through the arrangement of the blooms, and not so much by the quality of the flowers exhibited.

He invited questions from those competing and offered his help at any time regarding exhibition blooms. In this way, he said local gardeners will increase their points and reach the level warranted by their exhibits.

During the show the Sir Douglas Haig Chapter, I.O.G.E., served tea to a large crowd of patrons from tables daintily appointed and centered with bowls of autumn flowers.

In charge of tea were: Mrs. T. Kneal, Mrs. G. E. McMahon, and Mrs. A. Thomas. Servers were: Miss Margaret Kneal, Miss Clara Daem, Miss Marie Smith, Miss Joyce Smith and Miss Merla Lantz. Mrs. C. F. Bigge was in charge of tea ticket sales and plant draw, won by Mrs. Ivor Solly. The result of these endeavors was $14.15.

The following is the list of prize winners in the flower show. Where not specified, names are in order of merit.

Class 1, Dahlias: 1st, Mrs. J. McPherson, also 2nd and 3rd.
Class 2, Dahlias: 1st, Mrs. McPherson, 2nd, Mrs. E. McPherson.
Class 3 were roses, but no entries.
Class 4, Roses: 1st and 2nd, Mrs. E. E. Harvey.
Class 6, Asters: Mrs. J. McPherson, Mrs. E. McPherson, Mrs. T. Ashton.

Class 16, Bowl of flowers, for centre of dining table: Mrs. J. McPherson, Mrs. Watt, Mrs. Ellington.
Class 17, Potted plant in bloom: Mrs. Ashton, Mrs. S. Speers.
Class 18, Potted plant, green or colored foliage: Mrs. E. McPherson, Mrs. Osborne-Smith.

Mrs. Solly, Sr., of Summerland, visited for a short time with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Solly, on route to Winnipeg.
Mr. and Mrs. J. Pow, who have been residing at Malakwa, have taken up residence in their home on the Enderby-Salmon Arm highway, formerly owned by the late To Attend School at Coast.

Miss Audrey Lloyd and Miss Georgina Lloyd left recently for Vancouver, where they will reside with their grandmother, for the winter. The Misses Lloyd, whose home is at Trinity Valley, where their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arold Lloyd, reside, have attended the Fortunate High School for three years. They will now continue their education at the Coast city.

New Tourist Accommodation
Another addition to Enderby's building program are the new tourist cabins being built on the property of Mr. and Mrs. Zuta. A three-duplex cabins will be built this year. Mr. and Mrs. Zuta are newcomers to Enderby and bought their home and property from Mr. and Mrs. Sharnstrom early in the summer. The cabins will be fully modern and have an attractive appearance both inside and out.

Mrs. B. H. Morris has returned after two months holiday visiting friends in Calgary.

Mrs. B. Walther, and daughter, Miss Elizabeth Walther, are spending a few weeks as guests of Mrs. V. King-Baker. Mrs. Walther, a one-time Enderby resident, remarks upon the developments in this district. During their stay, the visitors will spend some time at Mrs. King-Baker's summer camp at Mara Lake.

Leslie Pantton visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Pantton, at the beginning of the week, motor-ing up from Kelowna. Leslie has been with the Forestry Service during the summer. While in Enderby he visited with his sister, Mrs. G. Mayers, and little daughter, Susan, of Vancouver, who are spending a few weeks with the former's parents.

Site of New High School in District 21 Subject of Debate
A delegation from Enderby Board of Trade has taken exception to reports that a High School for the district was to be located at Armstrong, and that a site has been selected. S. E. Speers, Richard Blackburn, William Pantton and J. Don Tucker waited on a recent meeting of the Armstrong District No. 21 School Board held a few days ago.

Answering a question put by the delegation, School Board chairman S. R. Heal as to what plans were for High School education in the School District, he replied that the Board was in favor of recommending one High School for the District, but it was a matter for the Department of Education to decide its location.

Further, they proposed a Junior High School for Enderby which would include manual training, industrial arts and domestic science. The location of a high school was an economic matter, and from a transportation standpoint could be operated most economically with location at Armstrong.

To a further question, the chairman said before a building could be erected a money by-law would have to be submitted to ratepayers of the entire district. He assured the delegation that the Board tried to keep the interests of the whole district before them.

Macs Prove Disappointing To Rutland Orchardists

—Hail Damage Extensive; Color Poor

RUTLAND, Sept. 16.—Both local packing houses are now going all out on Macs, with the K.G.E. Rutland branch operating three graders. McLean & Fitzpatrick are operating a night shift with their single grader. The latter firm is expecting a new rotary grader shortly, and the old grader will then be sent to the new Osoyoos branch. Both houses are short of labor, the K.G.E. being particularly short of sorters. Expected labor from the coast failed to arrive. Hail damage to apples in part of the Rutland district and in Ellison orchards is proving more extensive than previously thought, and 100,000 boxes at least will go direct to the processors from here. Color generally is poor, and between hail injury and poor color the first runs are going heavy to Cee grade.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Reinertson of 70-Mile House, Cariboo district, have taken up residence in the district having purchased part of W. Stranaghan's orchard on the North Belgo bench.

Chris. C. Ponto, of Oliver, has purchased C. G. Montgomery's farm here, and will take possession next month.

The Rutland Boy Scout Troup held its first meeting of the new season at the community hall on Tuesday last, in preparation for the forthcoming visit of the Chief Scout.

Monty's Plane Delayed By Okanagan Pears

A 12-minute delay of Field Marshal and Viscount Montgomery's airplane was caused by a dozen Okanagan Bartlett pears.

The delay was caused by Monty himself. On entering his plane at the Winnipeg airport, he remarked to his aide that he "sure would like some nice pears" and inquired if some could be obtained.

A rush call was made to a Winnipeg fruit merchant who, in spite of his store being closed, packed a basket of Okanagan Bartlett pears and transported them to the airport in his own car.

A steward rushed the pears to Monty's big Dakota which stood with motors idling on the runway. As the plane door closed on the Okanagan fruit, the Dakota took to the air, 12 minutes behind schedule.

There was considerable discussion on the feasibility of transporting pupils to a high school in Armstrong, and the fact that such a school would bring to pupils in the district first year university did not seem, to the members of the delegation, to outweigh the advantages of having the children at home longer morning and evening.

Chairman Heal emphasized the fact that the present appointed Board were exerting their efforts to put the educational matters and facilities in the district on a business basis.

The delegation had no alternative suggestions to make other than to leave the high school at Enderby as it was.

HEYWOOD'S CORNER, Sept. 16.—Mrs. Gordon, of Paxton Valley, with her son, Brian, has arrived at Salmon Bench. The former has been appointed teacher at the school.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Walker, of Victoria, with daughter Hazel, are visiting relatives, O. and W. Wilson, here.

He left Asquith Lake by plane for Prince George on Thursday morning, making in one and a half days what would have formerly taken a fortnight; the journey to Prince George from Asquith Lake via the Crooked and Mainhink rivers by canoe taking at least two weeks in the old days before modern transportation methods set in.

DUNLOP Faces A GREAT RESPONSIBILITY

With other tire plants closed down for the past two months, Dunlop is faced with the great responsibility of endeavouring to satisfy the tremendous demand for tires due to the non-production of other tire companies.

Dunlop accepts this responsibility. Confident in the consistent loyalty and productive skill of its employees with whom the friendliest relations have always existed . . . possessed of the understanding and co-operation of Dunlop Dealers everywhere . . . Dunlop is bending every effort . . . concentrating every resource . . . on the production of Dunlop Tires to meet the needs of essential transportation; regular Dunlop customers and all others whom it is possible to serve through its established dealers.

TIRE SITUATION CRITICAL

No one can over-emphasize the critical shortage of tires today. And there are few signs of improvement. Even the manufacturers of new cars and trucks are obliged to ship cars and trucks without tires. It is utterly impossible for one tire plant to attempt to reasonably serve essential transportation, equip these new vehicles and to take care of consumer sales. Nevertheless, Dunlop Dealers are exercising the keenest judgment and sense of fair play in establishing equitable distribution of their very limited supplies.

Yes, in addition to being the only Tire Plant in Canada presently operating . . . in addition to the pressing demand . . . Dunlop is handicapped in its efforts by shortages of essential materials, including tire fabrics, steel and other metals for tire heads, moulds, valves, etc., and other materials and equipment essential to tire building which, on account of unsettled labour conditions elsewhere, have been in short supply or not available at all. Because of these shortages, Dunlop, in spite of having been as far ahead in its raw material inventories as conditions permitted, has been unable to maintain normal production. Users of tires such as the new 6.50-15 size will thus appreciate the difficulty of getting into quantity production of this particular tire.

IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST

In the face of this grave, unprecedented situation, Dunlop . . . in the public interest . . . is going beyond commercial considerations and is doing its level best to serve tire users throughout Canada.

Dunlop assures you that it will continue to serve Canadians to the utmost of its ability, sparing no effort or expense. There is still great need for patience, of course, for conditions show no sign of easing. But when times return to normal . . . when present difficulties are ironed out . . . Dunlop, with its expanding production facilities, with the assurance of the steadfast loyalty and mutual goodwill of its employees and the co-operation of its dealers . . . will again be in a position to make available to tire users everywhere unrestricted supplies of the famous, long-serving, smooth-riding Dunlop Armored Tires.

Action Now

Sometime early next spring, when the first soft fingers of twilight are suddenly shut off by darkness sudden descent over our mountain valley, there's going to be a considerable agitation to inaugurate daylight saving.

The agitation undoubtedly will grow in volume, opinions pro and con will become heated, displays of temper as between city and country residents quite frequent. And then the big cities at the Coast will probably make a move to secure an additional hour of sunlight for teeming thousands of office and industrial workers. That will be the signal for the pro-daylight savers to try to secure action.

That's a pretty accurate forecast of what the situation will likely be, unless we can come to some general agreement beforehand. If we are to avoid indiscriminate tinkering with the clock, now is the time to have the question thrashed out.

Unless compelled by some authority higher than local, Kamloops and Salmon Arm are unlikely to have fast time next year. In one centre opposition from rail-roads and the other opposition from rural areas would seem to rule out the possibility of local change in 1947.

If confusion is to be avoided the issue of daylight saving should be clarified now.

Boost—Don't Knock

"Boost your roads, don't knock them"—that was an excellent bit of advice given recently by the Assistant District Engineer in an address to a local service club.

In proportion of population, distances, and needs of other districts, majority roads in the North Okanagan compared fairly favorably, so Mr. Harold Pope declared. They are not perfect by any means, but vast improvements have been made over a comparatively short space of time, and further programs will be proceeded with as labor and material is available.

To any person who takes time to make an analysis of our roads, these statements must appear quite reasonable. Just as drops of water will wear away stone, so will unrelenting—and often unjustified criticism—work more harm than good. Maintaining a constant pressure for a fair share of capital expenses and maintenance grants is one thing, and a quite legitimate and necessary thing, but torrents of abuse are entirely ineffectual.

Let's put the emphasis on construction and not on destruction.

The North Okanagan and indeed other adjacent areas might well give some serious study to one stretch of road vital to all these communities' interests and for many years now the Cinderella of the Interior. It's about time that the direct Kamloops-Okanagan route was given recognition for what it is—a vital link between this valley, the Main Line, and the Coast. That road has been neglected so long that other than local authorities must have completely forgotten it.

It's now in deplorable and disgraceful condition. True it does not drain areas of first-rank agricultural or industrial value, but it is a connecting link as important to the Interior as any other.

Tremendous sums of money are being spent on the Hope-Princeton highway and a first class outlet to the Coast is in prospect there. With its completion a scenic and beautiful drive will be possible from the Coast, up the Fraser Canyon, and return. But that route cannot be exploited to anything like the full possibilities unless the Kamloops-Vernon direct link is prepared simultaneously.

It's useless to argue that the Trans-Canada road is the right one to take. All but a minute proportion of the traffic to and from the Okanagan to the Main Line and beyond goes in the direct route—Kamloops-Vernon, a saving in distance of thirty to forty miles.

The Kamloops City Council has taken tentative steps towards organizing action on this road. That is entirely commendable. But the fact might just as well be faced that those communities whose interests are involved in reconstructing this road to modern traffic must be prepared to drop support of any and all projects.

It is utterly useless to demand action on this road one day and then next day to demand something else somewhere else. Concentration and pooling of effort will be required plus a whole-hearted willingness to drop pet projects of local significance only in favor of the larger issue.

Show Window for Farmers

It can be said that the eyes of British Columbia are this week focussed on the Interior Provincial Exhibition, now in full swing at Armstrong. This is the show window of agriculture for the North Okanagan particularly, but credit must be given to

One Man's Philosophy

Along the trail of life I find
It takes no effort to be kind;
It is so easy to be good;
And though you be misunderstood
In what you say or do,
And even though folks laugh at you,
I find it best to just go on
And do what's right to everyone.
Because the smiles you give away
Come doubly back to you some day.
In this sick world I like to feel
That in their hearts all men are real.
Mistakes are often made in strife
That never would be known, if life
Were all we wished. It seems a shame
That poverty should be the blame
For things we do against the will;
And yet, if wealth were with us still,
And we attained our golden goals,
We never could have found our souls.
I have observed along life's trail
For each who wins, a thousand fall.
That out of sorrows' painful blow
We learn most everything we know;
And all that matters very much
Is not to lose the common touch.
And I know this; I must believe
In fellowmen, should they deceive
And break this trust, well, in the end,
I'll have faith—they'll lose a friend.

The show reaches its climax under favorable auspices today. Congratulations are extended to Armstrong on its forty-sixth consecutive exhibition. Promoters and managers deserve the acclaim it has won.

He was trailing his gun behind him with the trigger "cooked" and it went off, blowing a toe completely from his foot—Hop picking commenced last week at the Coldstream Ranch and there are now upwards of 200 Indians engaged in this work—An accident occurred last Friday at the Coldstream Ranch when a man named Percy Marks fell from a wagon and had the wheel pass over his ankle. He received medical attention here. The appeal of the townsite company against the assessment decision of the Court of Revision was continued last week before Judge Spinks, and the appeal will be carried to the Supreme Court.

A Friendly Chat

By MABEL JOHNSON

I don't believe in grumbling because this and that is not obtainable; we live in those kind of times, and there are millions of people much worse off than we are. If we can't get shortening, we can bake a sponge cake. If there is no meat, we can eat the good old egg. If soap gives out altogether, we can have our faces with cream. There is one line of merchandise in short supply though, which has really got me down; and that is men's underwear. I don't mean the red flannel variety or its reasonable facsimile; just the thin, neat, d.v.d.s. is all I ask for. How do other women get on, wonder? Perhaps they were better prepared than I; may have had sets of various weights "laid by."

I was not one of those prudent souls, and it looks as if I shall be making pounces and other brooches out of the shreds that remain.

However, the sun is shining and its warmer. We just live a day at a time, and perhaps I may be lucky yet.

Speaking of clothes, what quantities of everything there once was!

The following anecdote turned up in my week end reading:

Clothes and the Lady

"The low-necked dress and bold look of the wearer are signs of the present era. The girl of the Period is a creature who dyes her hair and paints her face; no one can say of the Modern English Girl that she is tender, loving, retired, or domestic." Were those words written today, they were written just 80 years ago, and the trouble had started with the alleged flaunting of ankles on the Parade at Brighton. It was said that "at the seaside most of the young ladies are thinking of the admirer and the admirer is revealing in the miming airs they assume at the approach of the opposite sex."

"The furore about ankles 80 years ago, seems incredibly remote when the Brighton beaches of today are crowded with brown-skinned holiday-makers. But, Victorians took the matter of dress very seriously. It had social significance. Its aim was to indicate the wearer's social position—whether she was single or married, owned a carriage and a lady's maid, in fact, it almost told you the size of her income. If the lady was very young it conveyed the impression that her papa could doubtless afford a comfortable dowry, and if she was married that her husband was in a sound financial and social position.

It was essential that her dress, her small gloved hands and delicate air should show that the lady did no manual work. We read of a mother reproving her daughter for removing her gloves in church. "But, Mama, what is one to do if one's hands perspire?" The answer was simple: "My love, the Perfect Lady does not perspire." For in those far-off days the rule was that "horses sweat, gentlemen perspire," but ladies—never glow."

The modern hiker might like to know what her grandmother was advised to take on a walking tour. She required, we are told, "two cotton dresses, one cashmere dress, one ulster, one alpaca dust-coat, one parasol, one umbrella, one walking stick, one pair of shoes, one pair of button boots, six pairs of stockings, two straw hats, one green veil, and a small flask of brandy in case of faintness."

The woolen undergarment must come up to the neck and down towards the knees, with long sleeves (in case of chills), this with a light-colored petticoat is all that is needed."

That is how grandmother went hiking, and she played tennis in gloves and apron, bustle and 10 pounds of clothing.

We could do with some of this superfluous body covering nowadays.

"Most Anything"

By STUART FLEMING

There are indications of a great religious revival throughout the world. It is not necessary to look beyond Vernon to see signs of it. There are at least 18 churches, buildings in the city and its outskirts, there are two under construction and there is a gospel tent on Mara Avenue. Several smaller denominations rent commercial premises for their weekly meetings. As in most things concerning humans, however, there appears to be a certain lack of unanimity with regard to the methods by which the common aim may best be achieved. My friend, the thorough-going cynic, sometimes wonders how much of the ranting and raving of certain people is religious fervor and how much is animal emotionality.

A chain of caves connected by a subterranean passage has just been discovered near Drogheda, Eire. It is also reported that some of the moon's craters are thousands of feet deep. Both these natural phenomena appear to hold excellent possibilities as potential atom bomb shelters.

For a reason not divulged, a newspaper last week volunteered the information that Josephine Bonaparte introduced the custom of daily baths with soap in Europe. Where did she get the soap? Just about the most useless piece of information I discovered in a newspaper last week was that three-fourths of the stars are white or bluish-white.

Anyone who has read the best seller, "The Egg and I," by Betty MacDonald will be pleased to learn that she is working on another book entitled "The Plague And I." This information is, to be quite frank, lifted from Bennett Cerf's column, "Trade Winds" in The Saturday Review of Literature.

Almost every magazine or newspaper a reader picks up these days is loaded to the borders with prophecies of dire disaster and the collapse of civilization as we know it if atomic war should be unleashed on the world. Almost every editor who has the printed word at his command has become a prophet with the world to save. This is understandable but most people are opposed to war in any form and even a war fought with bows and arrows is horrifying enough without the atom bomb as an added attraction. So far as the individual is concerned he is just as dead if he is run over and killed by a bicycle as he is if disintegrated by an atom bomb blast. If the world should be involved in a so-called atomic war there won't be enough of us left after it is over to matter much anyhow, so why worry?

There are a great many newcomers to the city of Vernon who hope to make their homes here, for a while at least. Through no particular fault of their own what they don't know about this city and district's history would fill more than the eleven annual reports of the Okanagan Historical Society. For these people, a lot of no so newcomers besides, is provided the following information: Vernon before it was Vernon was Pritchard's Valley and Forge Valley; despite what anybody tells you, Kalamake does not mean lake of many waters but the name of an Indian chief or prince and was once spelled Kalemaka.

As I See It

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

Not long ago a good newspaper friend said to me: "Why not take time out from your running commentary on public affairs to write a few articles on a different level? Why not tell about your general approach to politics? Edit the ranters or more aware by you, but a lot swear at you. You baffle some of them. Tell them the real score." "You mean like that witty fellow who wrote that 'Philpott talks red, writes pink, but votes Green. His Socialist head does not seem to affect his liberal heart nor conservative bones.'"

"Sure. Give them some sort of general idea on how you got this way."

The idea seemed good enough for the four articles which were to appear while I was on the train for New York and the UN Assembly, but which has now been postponed. Here they are, anyway.

I can't answer the political question with any finality—for my own political ideas have changed with the changing world.

Likewise most other third or fourth generation Canadians, of Ontario background, I was brought up in the true blue British Imperialist atmosphere—for there was little if any difference between Ontario Grits and Tories in that respect. Thus for about the first twenty-two years of my life I was a fervent Tory. For the next ten years or so I was a Canadian Liberal Nationalist—that is, when Macdonald King was fighting for "equal status" and so on. For a few years I was a member of the C.O.P., and had the real honor of moving the plank for the socialization of the whole financial structure, which the Regina convention of the C.O.P. passed unanimously.

But I never did think—and do not think now—that the C.O.P. was on a broad and firm enough base to achieve enough "political" power to do in Canada, in the time available, what must be done. For many years I have belonged to no political party.

It must amuse my Labor-Progressive friends, as much as it does me, when some ignorant or malicious person says—that the chief spouter of the Fascist line in parliament did—that "Philpott is a Communist."

The Communists have long memories and accurate records. They know perfectly well that, while I have often been found on the right side, in several major fights, I have been found directly against them (as from August 1939, till June, 1941). We got on well together because we understand each other the same way. We both know that some new turn in the train of history may again zig-zag us far apart.

The real Communists in Canada know perfectly well that, while I often work with them, I am not a Communist for the obvious reason that I am not a Marxist. I do not believe that the conclusions of Karl Marx were either infallible, or a sufficient guide for the new conditions which humanity has faced since the rise of Fascism—not to mention the atom bomb.

It was a writer in a Communist party organ who recently warned his readers that "Philpott is really a Liberal."

That, of course, is true. I am fundamentally a Liberal. Not a Liberal with the capital L. Not a Liberal with the capital L. Not a Macdonald King Liberal, not a Gladstonian Liberal—nor even a Liberal of the Roosevelt school of the New Deal.

I am a Liberal of the faith of the writer who, some four thousand years ago, wrote in verse 8 of chapter 2 of Isaiah: "Liberal things and by liberal things shall be attained."

These Devices Save Farm Labour

Among the farm labour saving devices assembled or invented by the Engineering Section, Field Husbandry Division, Dominion Experimental Farms Service, are many items of auxiliary utility, quite apart from the plans and specifications for heavier farm machinery. For example, full information with detailed plans and specifications may be obtained for making necessary articles for poultry, such as, a range water unit, self-waterer, feed trough, water fountain, mash feeder, feed mixer, range shelter, and a roost and pit.

For sheep there are single and double feeders and for hogs there are a hog breeding crate, loading chute, feeding troughs for all sizes of pigs, self-feeder, pig creep, weighing crate, green feed rack, alfalfa feed rack, hog feeding platform, and farrowing pen. Among miscellaneous articles are a harrow dumping device, a breeding stall and bull pen for cattle, feed alley cart, home made anvil, wagon jack, fly trap, hag holder, seed treater, potato cutter, potato sorter, handy farmyard cart, and a low slung wagon. As in the case with heavier farm trucks, tractors, and other machinery full information with plans and specifications may be obtained by writing to, or visiting if convenient, the Engineering Section, Field Husbandry Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

CITY COUNCIL Jottings

F. G. deWolf, city engineer, was unable to attend the Council meeting Monday night because of illness.

Chlorinating equipment for the city water supply is being turned over by the Department of National Defence to the city and government men are training civic employees in its operation.

M. Mohoruk and M. Terebenetz were granted a license to open a men's wear and shoe retail store in the building under construction at Barnard and Mission.

"We shall leave the responsibility to the citizens of Vernon in the good hands of Aldermen Fred Harwood and W. Bennett," said Mayor David Howrie, when referring to the departure next week of the rest of the Council to the convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities at Harrison Hot Springs. The Council voted to appoint Mayor Howrie as delegate with the power to appoint three aldermen to accompany him. Aldermen Cecil Johnson, C. W. Saint-Stevenson and E. B. Cousins were appointed by Mayor Howrie.

Dr. H. L. Ormsby's application to purchase three feet of land for extension of his office behind the Fire Hall will be considered by the Land Sales Committee. Mayor David Howrie mentioned that the lot adjacent to the office building may be needed for parking space and Alderman E. B. Cousins suggested that it should be reserved for possible extensions of the Fire Hall.

A bylaw authorizing the sale of three lots for arrears of taxes received its third reading. Romaine Alwayne Newman and Ruth Margaret Newman will receive one lot for $180. Another is being sold to Alfred E. Greenall for $1 in consideration of exchange of land near the railway tracks. Fred Nelson McMechan, accountant, purchased the third lot for $300.

A letter from the Vernon Boy Scouts outlining the disadvantages to the organization from the use of the upper room in the Scout Hall as a high school classroom was referred to the School Board.

A. Paget, building inspector, recommended that the Council approve Vincent Guidone's application for a fresh meat shop on Mission Hill, but the Council delayed granting the license until application for a building permit for the store was received at the City Hall.

Garbage Dump on Track Near Salmon Arm Irks Railwaymen

SALMON ARM, Sept. 18.—Garbage dumped on a municipal ground on the Lakeshore road frequently falls on the C.P.R. right-of-way. And the railway's section crew resents this litter on an otherwise well-tended section of track.

This was the burden of a report presented by Reeve Frank Farmer at the last regular meeting of the municipal council.

Councillor Ritchie, chairman of the public works committee, sympathized with the railway workers and contended the property should never have been designated as a nuisance ground, because it has spoiled one of the best scenic lookouts in the municipality.

Sonja Henle was given a pair of ice skates for the first time on her eighth birthday and won her first figure skating contest when she was nine.

Packing House in Oyama Working at Capacity Now Bumper Apple Crop Rolls

OYAMA, Sept. 17.—Work has now been completed on the reconstruction of the B.C. Shipper's packing house. A concrete basement section and a new second floor section take care of the cold storage portions of the building. Up-to-date refrigerating machinery has been installed for the maintenance of proper temperatures.

The sorting room has been fixed up and closed in to make it more comfortable for the workers, and fluorescent lighting installed.

Lunch and rest rooms have all been renovated for the convenience of the staff. The improvements and additions bring this packing house into line with the newest and most modern in the Okanagan Valley.

Packing houses here are starting to operate at capacity now with Winter Bananas and McIntosh apples rolling freely.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Walker have as their guest for an extended visit, Mrs. J. H. Cooper of Vancouver.

Spending 10 days as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. Potchary are Mrs. W. Jenkins and her son, Norman Jenkins of Nelson; also Stewart Jenkins of Vancouver.

Several young people from Oyama left this week to enter U.B.C. for the new term. Verney Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Craig; Peter Orasuk, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Orasuk and Ken Ellison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ellison are among those who will continue advanced education in Vancouver. The Kalamalka Women's Institute is sponsoring a dance on Friday, September 20, to be held locally.

Mrs. A. G. R. Prickard has as her guests for a short time, Miss E. M. of Victoria, and Rev. Canon W. B. Parrott of Vernon.

Rev. A. V. Despard left for the Coast last week to spend the winter there.

Miss Kay McGladdery left on Monday for Vancouver to enter the University of British Columbia.

Mrs. L. Godfrey Isaacs is leaving this week for Paris, France, to spend several months. Her son, Denis Godfrey, will accompany her to the Atlantic Coast, from where she will sail.

Improvements to School Grounds Not Complete

Improvements to the Elementary School and its grounds are proving their value during the first few weeks of school, but further work is required to complete their usefulness. The playgrounds, formerly a mass of dirt and rocks, have been leveled, topped over a large area. However, Mr. Hatfield of Interior Construction, which has the contract, told H. K. Bearsto, Principal, that the job was not finished. The surface has not been rolled smooth and sufficiently compacted to stand up to fall and winter play, said Mr. Bearsto. Warm weather is required for asphalt work and it is doubtful if the grounds can be finished this year. Some children will come in with scratches or torn stockings, bruises from tumbling, but not as many as in other years. Mr. Bearsto thought, Billie Howard, in grade two, broke his arm last Thursday when he fell from the "ohhning bar" which is part of the play equipment.

Inside the school, interior decorating given a bright, pleasing appearance to the halls in the centre portion of the second floor. Dark green wainscoting has been replaced by cream, with chocolate brown baseboard and light brown trim. Mr. Bearsto said that this might cause temporary discipline problems in keeping the light walls clean of finger marks, but he thought it would result in valuable training in citizenship. Another advantage would be in the psychological effect of the bright, attractive color scheme.

School enrolment remains at about the same figure as last week, 1,000, with some children not yet having returned. Grade three has the heaviest classes, 44 in each. Other rooms serve from 30 to 44 pupils.

Contrary to reports that a few Canadian servicemen still serving overseas are likely to remain there at least "four or five years," the Department of National Defence announced that repatriation of all Canadian servicemen is expected to be completed by the end of the current year. The majority of the 9,000 men still overseas are Ordnance personnel engaged in the tremendous task of clearing out camps, once occupied by Canadian troops.

Kelowna May Get "Sicamous" as Relic of Past

KELOWNA, Sept. 16.—Before the city will endorse the Kelowna Board of Trade's action in requesting the C.P.R. to give the SS. "Sicamous" to the city, for museum purposes, city fathers want a definite understanding where the boat will be placed and what organization will look after maintenance of the vessel.

The stand was taken after the board of trade requested the aldermen to endorse its action. Majority of aldermen felt they should know something more definite about the future plans for the boat, otherwise it may develop into a derelict.

Alderman Sam Miller explained that all the local service clubs are behind the move to have the Sicamous beached and used as a form of museum. He added that the local Sea Cadets would also appreciate holding regular meetings on the boat.

The board's letter to the city council was prompted by the fact that the board had been requested to write the C.P.R. officially suggesting that some arrangement might be made whereby the Sicamous, instead of being scrapped, might be made of further service in Kelowna. The board, before writing the letter, approached the city council to ascertain if it officially approved of the move.

The matter has been discussed unofficially for some weeks but no official suggestion has been made to the C.P.R.

Some years ago Kelowna moved to procure the old SS. "Okanagan" before she was scrapped but the move came just too late as the C.P.R. was then committed to selling her for scrap. It was felt at that time that the Okanagan was one of the historical links with the past.

Some weeks ago a representative number of citizens, including representatives of the city council and civic officials, visited the Sicamous at Okanagan Landing and were convinced that she could be made good use here from a practical as well as a historical point of view.

Arrangements were made for a study program which consists of studying a foreign country and its highlights from foreign events. The group has decided to study India.

New officers were elected and they are as follows: President, Margaret Kneal; vice-president, Marie Smith; secretary, Parrol Radlson.

Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Farmer motored to Mara Lake early in the week to spend a few days with Mrs. V. King-Baker at her summer camp there. On Saturday Mrs. King-Baker, accompanied by Mrs. Walther and her daughter, Elizabeth, travelled to the King-Baker home on the Salmon Arm-Enderby highway where they spent a few days before returning to their Mara Lake camp.

Mrs. E. Webb, assisted by several members of the Sir Douglas Haig Chapter of the I.O.D.E., are making preparations for the Baby Clinic which the Chapter is sponsoring on September 21. For the past few years, through the kindness of Dr. Kope, all the children of the district, under school age, can be examined free of charge at the clinic. Following the examination, refreshments were served by members of the Chapter.

Douglas Pitt-Brooke, of Vancouver, has taken a position in the local branch of the Bank of Montreal and is making his home with Mrs. T. Morton.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Kope arrived home at the beginning of the week from Vancouver where they enjoyed a week's vacation. While at the Coast, Dr. Kope attended a medical convention. During their absence their son, Jamie, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Branton, and their daughter, has been the house guest of Miss Eleanor Lidstone.

Boat, Fishing Rod Stolen Somewhere on Shuswap Lake

SALMON ARM, Sept. 18.—Somewhere on Shuswap Lake an enthusiastic fisherman is possibly trying to lure some of the fish for which this part of B.C. is famous, with a rod and line which are the property of Reeve Frank Farmer and a boat, also pilfered.

A boat owned by Harry Peole, of the Canoe Auto Camp, was stolen recently. About the same time the reeve's rod and line were taken from his camp at the new municipal camp site. Since then no trace of the missing articles has been found.

Trucker Fined for Hauling Loose Load

On the first charge of its kind in the memory of Magistrate William Morley, Joe Mihalik was fined $5 and costs on Monday for failing to properly secure a load on his cartage truck. He had been moving equipment for Crescent Shows, with the aid of four of its employees who assured him that he need not tie it, although he had ropes and chains to do so. They rode on the load, it started to slip and Mr. Mihalik stopped the truck.

In readjusting the goods, some fell off the truck. Cpl. J. A. Knox, Provincial Police, asked the court for only a nominal fine to impress on Mr. Mihalik and to bring to the attention of the public the law in this regard.

The Iroquois confederacy of six Indian nations with 6,000 members made its own declaration of war against the Axis in 1942.

Ashamed of Her Blotchy — PIMPLY SKIN

Here's an Honest Offer
Satisfaction or Money Back

If YOUR skin has broken out with ugly surface pimples — rashes — caused by local irritations or if you suffer from an externally caused itching, burning skin soreness, go to your drugstore and get a small bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil and use as directed. Soon you'll find it starts right to get rid of the trouble — promoting faster healing. Use for two days and if then you are dissatisfied, Money Back. Stipples — creases — all druggists.

Armstrong Farmers Have Good Crop Year

ARMSTRONG, Sept. 16.—Grain harvesting operations in the district have enjoyed favorable weather and the farmers have taken full advantage and pretty well rounded up the crop. The average yield is well up to 1½ tons to the acre of wheat which is considered good and a very good grade of wheat.

Little Oosta Rica reports it urgently needs 3,521 low-cost houses.

New Savings Bond Data End Sept.

Terms and conditions of sale of the new Canada savings bond will be probably announced by Rt. Hon. J. L. Halsey, Minister of Finance, at the end of the month, following his return from Europe. It is reported from Ottawa, National sales campaign will take place in mid-October.

Although the interest rate will not be definitely known until announced by Mr. Halsey, it is expected to be 2.75 percent and the term probably ten years.

Sales of War Savings Certificates will end on September 30, although under the payroll deduction plan payments will be accepted into October to complete full certificates, inaugurated in 1940, the first war savings certificates will begin maturing next year.

Designed purely as a personal savings facility for the people of Canada, the Canada savings bond will be offered in denominations of $50, $100, $500 and $1000. Sales to each person will be limited to one amount yet to be decided and the bonds will not be transferable or assignable.

This is to prevent large investors from buying up large amounts to obtain a higher rate of interest than they could get elsewhere. The bonds may be cashed in, however, for full purchase price at any time. In making his first announcement last June the Finance Minister said that "the terms will be more favorable than those existing for comparable investments at the time of issue."

The bonds themselves will be engraved on good heavy paper and will look very much like Victory Bonds. Interest coupons will run down one side and along the bottom.

Unlike Victory Bonds, however, the coupons will be redeemable annually instead of semi-annually.

Since the new bonds are being offered solely as a savings facility to help the average worker, there will not be a high-pressure sales campaign. The bonds will be offered through the payroll deduction plan and through regular institutions such as banks, authorized investment dealers and trust and loan corporations.

They will likely remain on sale for a long period. Since they are being offered as a savings facility, it is pointed out, it would be inconsistent to cut off the sale at an arbitrary date.

No Objective There will not be any publicly announced objective in terms of dollars, and the sales volume will not reach the proportions of the Victory Bond issues.

The new bond is for the private subscriber only and therefore will not include the large volume of institutional buying which was included in the Victory Loans.

The institutional borrowing will come at a later date and at a lower rate of interest. Government officials will feel the savings bond worthwhile if sales amount to $250,000,000 or $300,000,000.

House Numbering for Unorganized Areas Near Kelowna Mooted

KELOWNA, Sept. 13.—At the request of the post office authorities the Kelowna Board of Trade will ask the Department of Public Works, Victoria, to extend the street numbering system adopted by the City of Kelowna along those streets adjacent to the city boundaries, which come under the department's jurisdiction as they are in unorganized territories.

The two areas affected are Woodlawn and that area between the south boundary of the city and the K.L.O. Road. It is expected that these districts will be given postal service if properly numbered.

The Board is urging that the same numbering scheme as used in the city be extended to these areas. This would ensure a continuity of numbers and would avoid any confusion now or in the future. If any other system were adopted there would probably be some duplication of numbers, causing confusion.

Under the suggested scheme such streets as Penderol would be given rising numbers from the north right through to the south to the K.L.O. Road. In the unorganized area beyond Raymer the numbers would follow naturally from those in the city at Raymer.

Similarly, such streets as, say, Oadler, beyond Richter, would be given the numbers they would have been given had they been within the city limits.

The Board of Trade will ask the department if it will consider allotting numbers to the houses in these unorganized areas and, if so, will adopt the same scheme as the city in order that there may not be confusion now or in the future.

The step is being taken in the hope of obtaining postal delivery service for these sections, which must first be adequately numbered.

River Lands of Kamloops Declared Bird Sanctuary

KAMLOOPS, Sept. 11.—In response to representations made to provincial authorities, the river areas adjoining Kamloops now have been declared a bird sanctuary. Announcement of this is made by the British Columbia game department.

The area which has been closed to all hunting is "that portion of the Kamloops Electoral District described as follows: All waters of the North Thompson, South Thompson, and Thompson rivers bounded on the north by the Indian National Railway bridge (main line) at Kamloops Junction and on the east by the Kamloops-Battle River highway bridge at Kamloops, and on the west by the Kamloops-Tranquille highway bridge."

Small killers rank highest socially among the Alouette tribe.

Typical Dutchman

Typical of the Dutchmen met by Canadian soldiers in this pipe-smoking fisherman of quaint old Volendam. The Canadians found that in many parts of Holland the inhabitants' clothing is still of the same type they wore many years ago.

Falkland Pro-Rec Display Draws Interested Crowd

FALKLAND, Sept. 13.—Since its inception in early July, the local Pro-Rec has steadily gained in popularity, and recently Gordon Dent has returned from a two weeks' instruction course in Kamloops, and will be a leader this fall. On September 17, a group of instructors from various points throughout the interior put on a display which included vaulting, tumbling, gym work, ju jitsu and boxing. The display was open to the public and many interested spectators attended. The program was followed by supper and dance, and proceeds went towards equipping the local group.

Perfect weather has meant the heaviest harvest in history for some of the farmers in Six Mile Valley. This small valley, with half a dozen farms, is composed of heavy black loam, is perfectly flat land, and for the most part is watered by underground springs. For some unknown reason these springs did not dry up in late summer as they usually do, but continued to function, with the result that Dave Miller has his second crop just as heavy as the first one, and has finished harvesting with little trouble because of the excellent weather.

Donnie Allen and C. Kent both report splendid hay crops, and Mr. Kent has also a very heavy turnip crop. On the other hand, Mrs. Kent, who is "Turkey Queen of Canada," says that the year has been very unfavorable for turkeys.

The Ladies' Anglican Guild met at the home of Mrs. E. C. Kent recently and made plans for decorating the church for Harvest Festival, which will be held this year on September 22. While regretting the loss of Mrs. Warren as organist, the ladies were gratified to learn that Miss Fryer has agreed to carry on in that capacity. The president was welcomed on her return from the Coast. Mrs. Kent was elected vice-president in place of Mrs. Warren, who left some time ago to reside in Vernon.

The United Church Ladies' Aid spent a very profitable afternoon on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. W. J. McCounie. Music and several readings were enjoyed, and it was decided to hold a silver tea and sale of wool on September 28 at the home of Mrs. Seaman.

Mrs. A. M. Gotobed has disposed of her home and furnishings and will leave shortly for the Coast, where she will make her home with her daughter, Mrs. E. Swift.

Mrs. T. Currie has rented her house for a few months to Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Johnson, and with her husband, will spend the winter in Vancouver.

The population of Falkland has increased by about 100 since the ration books were issued, present distribution would indicate.

P. H. Wilmut sent several horses to Chilliwack Fair, and is spending the week there himself.

Vaccine for encephalomyelitis has been distributed and widely used in this valley. Cases are reported at Westwood, but so far as is known, there are no local cases.

Reg. Sweet reports that this district has been very free from forest fires this year. Only ten very small fires were started and were easily put out. Rain at this point will leave forests in such condition that Mr. Wilson, the lonely watcher on Tutakamin Lookout will soon be able to come down.

The Hon. Herbert Anscomb, Minister of Finance, has been appointed a director of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway. It was announced by Premier Hart, Mr. Anscomb fills the vacancy caused by the death of the Hon. R. L. Maitland.

Decline in Kamloops Grasshopper Damage

KAMLOOPS, Sept. 11.—Grasshoppers, which for the past several seasons had done extensive damage to range and crops in this part of the province, have not been a problem this year.

Reason for their dwindling from almost plague proportions is not readily apparent, but several factors are involved, according to the Dominion government field crop insect laboratory here. Parasites, which were found to be more widespread as the grasshoppers increased in numbers have had a definite influence in controlling them. It is believed that perhaps fewer eggs were laid last fall than had been expected and that cool, wet weather this spring also worked to the disadvantage of the hopper hatch. Another angle, quite unexplained, is the observation that grasshoppers apparently have a certain vitality cycle and that after they have been particularly abundant they suffer a decline in vitality.

In marked contrast to preceding years, there have been no reports of crop damage from grasshoppers in this district this year. However, baiting was maintained in some control areas.

Okanagan Valley Setting for New Motion Picture

A new motion picture entitled, "Okanagan—The Valley of Plenty," is now being made in the Valley. The sound production is in Technicolor and covers the whole of the Okanagan and is scheduled to be released early this winter.

The purpose of the picture is to acquaint the people of Canada with the fruit growing district of British Columbia and give them a view of methods used in this part of the country. An effort is being made to show buyers and consumers of British Columbia fruit the modern system of packing.

When the film is shown in the Eastern provinces it will serve as a medium of exchange of ideas and methods as used by the Eastern and Western Canadian fruit growers. As the production is a documentary film it will also serve other educational purposes.

I. J. Leslie is in charge of the "shooting," which is scheduled to be completed by September 21.

Used to be Bilious and Constipated

But Happy Days Here Again Since Relief Was Found

Bilious attacks, headaches and constipation made life a burden to this mother of ten children. Then she started on a simple plan which she has never regretted. For years, the "little morning dose" of Kruschen has helped to keep her well, as she tells in this letter—

"I have put my faith in Kruschen Salts for at least ten years. I used to suffer with nasty bilious spells, headaches and constipation. I wish I had taken Kruschen sooner. I am 45 years old and have had ten children. Thanks to my little morning dose of Kruschen I am free from constipation and I feel fine."—(Mrs.) C. H., Coventry.

It is reasonable to ask why this woman's headaches, constipation and biliousness were so happily relieved by Kruschen. The answer is that Kruschen is made up of six minerals or salts and when you take Kruschen regularly for a while, your stomach, liver, kidneys and your digestion are benefited. And that—as you know—is a big help in keeping regular and feeling fit. All druggists have Kruschen Salts; price 25c and 75c. Try them yourself and take just enough to suit you as a morning dose.

Refreshing! Satisfying...

BLUE PRINT for a NEST EGG

Let's talk a minute about savings... your savings.

Chances are they are in a healthier state right now than for a long time. All through the war you made it a point of honour to buy—and hold—all the Victory Bonds you could. Now they amount to a surprisingly large sum.

In short, you proved you could save. And you discovered, perhaps for the first time, what a nice feeling of extra security and independence could be yours with a "nest egg" of savings safely tucked away.

Now there's no war to serve as a spur, are you becoming less particular about putting aside a set sum every month? Are you losing the saving habit? Remember... the money you "save for yourself" is the most important part of the money you earn.

So please consider this simply a friendly reminder that savings do have to be planned; that sticking to the plan sometimes means doing without an occasional unbudgeted "extra," and that making regular deposits in a Royal Bank Savings Account is still a good way to get somewhere with your personal finances... and with your ambitions for yourself and your family.
